PARIS, Feb. 1.—(To the Editor of The Register:) Bad flying weather today kept us out of Berlin. We had better quit writing notes to Japan or she will have all China. Every time they get a note they take another town that they hadn't thought of till our note gave them the idea. Quit writing and warning 'em what not to do. Wait till they do something that will really affect us. This war was originally private just between them and China. The way we got in the last war was through notes. We send so many that nations can't tell which one we mean. Our wars ought to be labelled "entered on account of too much penmanship."
Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

UNITED STATES ASIATIC FLEET STEAMING EAST

Vantage of a sunny afternoon and went about the city in holiday mood. President Hoover called to get the nation's military leaders in one of the gravest conferences since World War days.

For two hours Mr. Hoover sat with Secretary of State Stimson, Secretary of Navy Adams, Secretary of War Hurley, Admiral William V. Pratt, chief of naval operations; General Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff of the army; Undersecretary of State Castle and Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck, chief of the far east division.

The conference had before them an urgent appeal from Consul General Cunningham at Shanghai for more forces to protect the 5000 American civilians there.

Journalistic and diplomatic Washington waited anxiously for the outcome of the conference. It was well after 4 p. m. when the government chiefs dispersed, silent as to their action. Shortly, however, the White House issued this statement:

"A conference was held by the president today with the secretaries of state, war and navy, Undersecretary of State Castle, Chief of Staff General MacArthur and Chief of Naval Operations Admiral Pratt.

"The request of the American Consul General Cunningham and our naval officers at Shanghai for still further protection of American citizens in the international settlement at Shanghai was considered.

Infantry Moves
"Directions had been given to send to Shanghai the 31st regiment of about 1000 men now at Manila together with 400 marines on the transport Chaumont leaving tomorrow. The cruiser Houston and six destroyers left Manila this morning for Shanghai.

"With these additions and the marines already there, the total American forces in the settlement will number about 2800.

"As soon as conditions permit the troops will be returned to Manila."

Instructions were given that the troops were to use the "utmost forbearance" in their relations with the Chinese and Japanese forces. Every effort will be made to avoid needless trouble.

A later statement from the navy department quoting Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor, commanding the Asiatic fleet, gave details of the troop and ship movements.

It differed in some details from the White House communique, but was accepted as correct, coming from the actual director of operations.

Taylor said that he, aboard the 10,500 ton cruiser Houston, his flagship, accompanied by seven destroyers, would leave Manila last night. They should arrive at Shanghai about Wednesday.

The admiral planned to take with him on the Houston a force of 650 marines, rather than 400, as the White House said. The transport Chaumont, bearing 1000 troops, is to sail from Manila today. With the arrival of these forces there will be nearly 3000 American fighting men to protect their compatriots, caught in the surging flood of oriental passions.

New Threat Seen
These forces will include 1800 marines, 1000 soldiers, a large cruiser and 13 destroyers—11 en route, four having left Manila earlier, and two at Shanghai now. Three other U. S. destroyers are scattered between 125 and 400 miles from Shanghai, and 10 gunboats are on the Yangtze river at distances varying from 150 to 1500 miles above the disturbed city.

The threat of a Chinese-Japanese clash at a new point, Swatow, was reported to the state department by Consul Leonard N. Green there.

Green reported that the mayor of Swatow, General Chang, commanding Chinese forces, and the Japanese consul, had assured him that every precaution would be taken to avoid injury to Americans and their property.

The statement was interpreted as assurance that the United States did not have in mind a conflict with any force now at Shanghai but was merely discharging its obligation toward its citizens in the danger area.

Secretary of State Stimson, tired and worn after a week end spent in dealing with the Shanghai problem, met with newspapermen for a brief conference today. He appeared unusually strained and grave. The secretary declined to discuss details of the Shanghai situation or to make any statement for publication.

FRENCH READY TO JOIN WITH ALLIES
PARIS, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The foreign office announced today that the French consul-general at Shanghai had been instructed to co-operate with American and British officials for defense of the international settlement, and that all the French naval units that could be spared from Indo China had been ordered to proceed to Shanghai.

The vessels include the cruiser Waldeck Rousseau, which left Manila for Indo China Saturday, taking Governor General Pasquier back to Saigon after an official visit to the Philippines. The French will send all the troops and gunboats that can be spared from other Oriental duty.

The French ambassador to Tokyo was instructed to inform the Japanese foreign office that France expects that rights of the French concession at Shanghai will be respected.

It was denied officially that France is supporting the Japanese move in Shanghai either morally or financially. It was explained that the Franco-Japanese accord of June, 1907, mutually guaranteeing their rights in China, applies only to parts of China neighboring on French and Japanese possessions, and therefore does not apply to Shanghai.

NEW PROTEST MADE BY THREE NATIONS
TOKIO, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Concerted action by the United States, Great Britain and Italy was taken today in delivering a new strong verbal protest to Japan against her action in China.

United States Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes called again on Foreign Minister Yoshizawa to deliver the American protest, described as couched in the most indignant terms.

The British and Italian ambassadors took similar actions. The French ambassador apparently followed a milder course.

The protests came after a week-end of frequent calls by the ambassadors singly on Yoshizawa. Forbes explained that the British and American interests in this crisis were identical.

No threats to Japan of any kind were intended, he emphasized, but he admitted the protest, which was not submitted in writing, expressed great indignation at Japan's actions in Shanghai.

Forbes' visit to the Gaimusho (foreign office) came with word from Shanghai that efforts were to arrange an effective truce and a neutral zone had failed. The government understood that the Japanese commander had refused the proposal of the British that troops from British and American forces guard the defense areas at present held by the Japanese.

Fighting was reported to have resumed when the parleys fell through, the Japanese using aerial bombs.

JUDGE AWARDS HALF MILLION DECISION

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The Alamitos Land company today was given judgment of $494,678.98 against the Shell Oil company, following trial of a suit which disputed the manner in which the oil firm computed value of oil taken from the land firm's leases.

Superior Judge Thomas L. Amerson handed down the decision after three months of deliberation.

The Alamitos company complained that the Shell Oil company had computed value of the oil taken from the field in the past 10 years in such a manner as to deprive the lessee of correct royalties.

Gravity of the oil was determined by the oil company before water had been removed from the crude, which gave the oil a less valuable quality, it was charged.

THIEF SWAPS AUTOS
SULLIVAN, Ind. — (UP)—The thief who stole Ben Harrison's new automobile from its garage did not leave Harrison without any means of transportation. The thief left a dilapidated roadster, made in 1922.

REFUSE GOLD BRAID BILL
HINGHAM, Mass. — (UP)—Harbor Master Bill Melcher, in trimming his uniform with gold braid, apparently trimmed himself out of $6. When he submitted a bill for the trimmings, town officials refused to pay it.

ANNUAL REPORT J A P WARSHIPS SHOWS CITRUS SHELL NANKING RETURNS HEAVY THIS MORNING

ing season for the crop which is estimated to be as large as the one just disposed of, is very remote, for although the general trend of our conditions is upward there are so many uncertainties which influence our operations, that it makes this very desirable information unavailable.

"Damaging winds have been at a minimum but cold weather has undoubtedly checked growth, and in many instances, severely affected the fruit. The desirability of heating to protect the fruit and trees from frost is just as evident as ever and still offers opportunities that should not be passed over lightly. Brown rot, caused by the early and copious rains, has had a very depressing effect on the early market and a recurrence of last year's poor marketing qualities in Valencia and lemons would be nothing short of disastrous in attempting to establish a market on these varieties.

"Every must be exercised in our handling operations and more diligence and supervision given to our grading so that a consistently reliable product can be offered to our trade, which once accomplished, the confidence of our members can well repose in the Exchange system, that it will give a good accounting of itself in handling the large crop of fruit now upon the trees."

Market Problems
"Years of heavy production present many problems from a marketing standpoint, which become increasingly difficult of solution during periods of restricted buying. The resultant under consumption of general unemployment, and the fear of those still employed that their incomes may be disturbed, automatically increases the supplies for the larger centers of population, which under pressure from supplies behind, depress values and affect buyer confidence in the market, and that condition can only be remedied from the shipping end by a reduction in the amount going forward, sufficient to restore the balance of supply and demand."

Continuing, the report said, "Stringent regulation of supply and equitable elimination of surplus in years of heavy production are imperative to meet the demand and hold values in line with a remunerative return on the investment, and the primary step in accomplishing this objective is a larger percentage control within one organization that is not working at cross purposes, nor which is concerned in a profit for itself upon the volume of shipments handled, but which is capable of conceiving a plan that will bring about the optimum of conditions for the producers."

In speaking of exports the report said:

EXPORT POOL
"Although it is apparent that we have not yet reached the time for a complete accord on the question of compulsory elimination of surpluses of unmerchantable fruit, one step forward in this direction has been taken in the establishment of the export pool, which resulted this season in taking 10 per cent of the Valencia crop, practically all of which were small sizes, and although there was a difference between the sale of this fruit abroad and the prices paid by the pool to the shippers of five and nine hundredths per box, brought about by poor carrying fruit and a collapse of the gold standard in Great Britain, there is very little doubt but that this reduction in supplies for domestic consumption resulted in many times this amount being returned on that portion of the crop which was marketed in this country."

In regard to loose fruit, the report said, in part,

"Because it has been impossible, in the face of adequate and cheap supplies of better fruit, to salvage the unshippable fruit at anything like growing and handling costs, the methods of attempting to effect its sale and disposal have been more or less severely criticized. The likelihood of only small returns from the by-products plant caused correspondingly heavier supplies to be forwarded by the Los Angeles distributing plant. The consequent heavy offerings were larger than could be readily absorbed by the Metropolitan area and the consequences have been that considerable of it has been purchased and reshipped to our closely packed fruit markets, taking the place of our packed fruit shipments and demoralizing the regularly used distributing channels."

In what steps Taylor would take to regain the neutral status of the settlement was kept Chinese Japanese hostilities on a large scale appear inevitable.

the Japanese Shanghai occupation. Nervous tension was at a high pitch, relieved only by the news that American and other reinforcements are enroute to safeguard the lives and interests of the foreign colony in the International Settlement.

Japanese meantime acted to get firmly within their grasp the Hongkew region, partly within the settlement where over the Sabbath they had bayoneted and machine gunned Chinese suspected of sniping occupiers.

Captain Baron Samoyla, commanding the Japanese marine quarters, notified Settlement police today that all police stations manned by the International police in Hongkew must close, and that no Settlement police should appear on the streets between 5 p. m. Monday night and 5 a. m. Tuesday.

This course was contrary to the agreements under which the International police function.

"The Japanese have cleared from the district many of their citizens, and there is a fear that these neutrals forewarned of facts for much of Hongkew like that meted Chapei.

Erect Battlements
Japanese marines erected sand-bag embankments along the Ming Hong road 100 yards from the Hongkew police station gate and mounted machine guns pointed toward the station as a grim support for the baron's commands.

Simultaneously Japanese marines strung barbed wire barricades around Hongkew, apparently preparing to have everything their way tonight. They have already terrified the Chinese by their course Saturday night in coming into Hongkew and proceeding ruthlessly against Chinese dwellers.

Any suspected of sniping were led off to an unrevealed fate. Others were bayoneted or gunned as they sought to flee from raiding Japanese.

The armistice between Chinese and Japanese, more honored in the breach than in the observance was still functioning technically today, and the British and American authorities were striving to patch it up into a forcible instrument.

However, there appeared little chance of success, and there were reports it had been definitely shattered.

American Consul Cunningham and others involved refused to comment on the reports that the truce was definitely cancelled and that Japanese marines tonight were attacking Chinese positions and bombarding Kiangwan and other Chinese troop concentrations. Kiangwan is a Shanghai suburb within the limits of the native city.

The arrival on Friday of the 31st United States infantry will mark the first landing of American troops—other than Marines—in Shanghai since 1900. When Rear Admiral Montgomery M. Taylor arrives on his flagship Houston, he will be the ranking foreign admiral and will assume control of the port.

The position of the foreigners may be such by that time that the combined American and British forces may have to demand that the Japanese leave the settlement or face forceful ejection, the consequences of which would be far-reaching.

In what steps Taylor would take to regain the neutral status of the settlement was kept Chinese Japanese hostilities on a large scale appear inevitable.

the creek, Japanese marines were in control of Hongkew.

An American girl tried to cross the bridge but was halted by a Japanese marine and was refused passage even with an escort of settlement police. The girl wanted to reach her baby in an apartment house in the French concession, where it had been taken for safety.

The Japanese marines had left the postoffice, which they had occupied, and it was guarded by a Russian detachment of the Shanghai volunteer corps. The Russians, however, were isolated, with Japanese marines patrolling the area about them.

The present foreign defense corps is barely sufficient to hold their settlement lines. Until the arrival of the Argyle and Sutherland Highlanders to reinforce the British and Admiral Taylor with his forces Wednesday, the situation of the settlement will be most precarious.

It was feared the Japanese would decide to take over the entire settlement, on the plea of silencing snipers, or might launch their threatened offensive against the Chinese positions, either of which developments would potentially endanger the lives of a million people in the settlement.

There was little doubt that the Japanese had rejected the proposal to establish a neutral zone around the settlement. Foreigners believed that by the end of the week, with reinforcements of United States troops and the "ladies from hell," as the Highlanders are known, would bring about a showdown between Admirals Taylor and Shiosawa.

To House Troops
Preparations were started for housing the influx of foreign troops in the crowded settlement.

General Tsai Ting-Kai, Chinese commander, told the United Press: "While Chinese troops are guarding their own territory and intend to maintain law and order. Despite legitimate Chinese objections to the Japanese basing their offensive from the settlement, there will be no Chinese attack on the settlement of attempt to oust the Japanese until after Admiral Taylor arrives and we are given an opportunity to learn definitely what action will be taken."

"The Japanese have occupied Hongkew and slaughtered my people, who are justified in expecting protection in the settlement. Tonight we are threatened with a new attack. We are ready. But regardless of what fighting is coming between the Chinese and Japanese in Chinese territory, we expect, especially after Admiral Taylor's arrival, that Chinese will be protected in all parts of the settlement."

After taking over Hongkew, the Japanese marines shot out all the lights during the afternoon, and it was feared incendiary conflagrations would be started as the Japanese tried to clear out snipers.

City Is Tense
Buildings within and outside the settlement already have been fired by the Japanese to drive out snipers. The city consequently was as tense as on Friday, when Chapel was bombed.

The French concession presented a martial appearance, barricades closing all approaches, tanks on patrol and police with machine guns, stationed at strategic points.

The Japanese marines and the snipers were threatening between them to create a reign of terror. Normal life of the city was disrupted. Newspapers reduced the number of their pages because of the loss of advertisers. Many businesses were at a standstill, motion picture theaters operated only in the afternoon with audiences of 20 or 30.

The congested "slum" districts were in confusion, with thousands of homeless refugees surging through the streets, obstructing traffic and providing the material for potential mob violence.

The editor of the China Clipper, only insurance journal in the Far East, said today that the fire loss in Chapel was estimated at 50,000,000 taels (about $16,500,000) of which only a negligible amount was covered by insurance against the risk of war.

Local underwriters, reflecting the nervousness of the business community, refused to issue war risk coverage on the plant of the Commercial Press two days before the bombing, although the owners offered the incredible rate of 3 1/2 per cent of the sum insured per month.

Chinese owners were offering 5 per cent today for coverage of warehouses in Markham road, in the foreign settlement, but there were no takers.

AMERICAN CONCERN SHELL BY JAPS
SHANGHAI, Feb. 1.—(UP)—A Japanese destroyer anchored at the mouth of the Yangtze river opened fire on buildings belonging to the Texas corporation, an American concern, today.

The destroyer sprayed the American property with machine gun fire.

The buildings were part of the Texas company's installation on Gough island, off Woosung, about 20 miles from Shanghai.

The commanding officer on the destroyer said he had been fired on from the shore.

An inquiry revealed that the "rifle fire" reported by the Japanese destroyer was merely a group of villagers nearby, shooting off fire crackers in a Chinese celebration.

Windows of the Texas corporation installation were shattered. Otherwise, there was little damage.

An adjacent Chinese installation and the nearby Asiatic Petroleum corporation plant also were reported fired upon, but only the action against the Texas corporation was officially confirmed at first.

CHIMNEYSWEEP MAYOR
LONDON, Jan. 27.—The new Mayor of Bethnal Green, H. Brooks, has been a chimneysweep all his life and, at the age of 64, has no intention of dropping his trade. Brooks has been a member of the borough council ever since it was formed in 1900, and has had the ambition to be mayor for years. He learned to sweep chimneys from his father at the age of 15, and it is the only trade he has known.

POWERFUL MICROSCOPE
SAN DIEGO, Cal.—Dr. Royal Raymond Rife has announced the completion of what is claimed to be the most powerful microscope in the world. It magnifies objects 17,000 times and uses quartz prisms to break up light waves. It reveals many bacterial heretofore invisible, and will be of great aid in combating disease. ## TWO DRIVERS ARRESTED FOR DRUNK DRIVING

Seven persons were reported injured in one automobile accident here over the weekend end, while the total traffic casualties for the same period amount to 11 persons hurt in seven accidents, according to police reports. Two motorists were arrested on charges of driving cars while under the influence of intoxicating liquor after crashes.

Two babies were among the seven persons hurt at 7:20 p. m. Saturday at First and Birch streets, when a car driven by Elmer Carroll, of 500 1/2 West Sixth street, collided at the intersection with a sedan driven by V. A. Puckett, of 617 East Fifth street.

Those injured were all in the Puckett machine and while their injuries are not of a serious nature all were taken to the Santa Ana Valley hospital where they were given medical treatment. They were: Virgil A. Puckett, Mrs. V. A. Puckett, Frances V. Farris, of 510 Porter street, Mrs. M. Farris and Phyllis Farris, and Bruce and Donald Puckett, children aged three and one years. Puckett suffered probable internal injuries and was cut about the arm. Others were reported to have been badly bruised and cut in the accident.

Intoxication Charged
One man was injured and another arrested as the result of an automobile accident at First and Lyons streets early Saturday afternoon.

According to a police report of the crash, a car driven by Frank Silvas, 46, of El Toro, collided with several automobiles, including a machine operated by Sam Stuart of San Juan Capistrano and a Klipatrick bakery truck. A passenger in another car, Nathan E. Levens of 628 North Van Ness street suffered a cut scalp and injuries to his knees and chest, it was reported.

Officer P. A. Hantsbarger arrested Silvas, who is being held in the county jail on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, officers claiming the man was drunk when he allowed his machine to collide with the other cars.

Levens was in the rear of the bread truck taking out bread when the truck was struck by the car driven by Silvas. A pint of liquor was found in Silvas' possession, Hantsbarger reported.

Hand Mashed
Mrs. W. H. Collins, of Long Beach, suffered a badly mashed hand in an automobile accident near Crystal Cove at 2:30 a. m. Sunday, when his car sideswiped a machine driven by Robert Cochran of Tustin. Several fingers may have to be amputated, it was reported.

In the Cochran car were Volmer Cochran and Miss Audrey Pyke of Laguna Beach, neither of whom were injured. Mrs. Taylor was taken to Corona del Mar to the home of friends by Robert Cochran.

Joseph A. Collins of 2300 North Bristol street reported to the California highway patrol yesterday that he was in a wreck on Sullivan street, one-half mile west of

WOMAN STARTS TO SERVE JAIL TERM

Mrs. Edith Barnhart, 36, of 115 East Fairview street, entered the Orange county jail last night to start serving a 60-day jail sentence on a charge of possession of liquor.

She was arrested by members of the Santa Ana police department on January 9, when a raid on her home uncovered a small amount of liquor and she pleaded guilty to the offense a short time later, being sentenced to pay a fine of $300 or spend 60 days in jail. The sentence was imposed by Judge J. G. Mitchell, in the city court.

Mrs. Barnhart has been on bail since that time, finally deciding to serve the jail sentence.

Building permits in Santa Ana for January totaled $50,207, just $11,000 short of January 1931, records in the office of the city building inspector show.

There were 49 permits issued during the month, showing that business of building is still going on here at a good clip, the shortage under January of a year ago being noticed in the erection of homes. In January 1931, there were 13 permits issued for the erection of residences and in January of this year there were but seven.

The total amount in January, 1931, was $71,647 with 60 permits issued.

STATE C. OF C. MEET TO DRAW COUNTY GROUP

Orange county is expected to have a strong delegation in attendance at the meeting of the Southern California Council of the California State Chamber of Commerce to be held next Friday at the Hotel Alexandria in Los Angeles. Approximately 250 civic and commercial leaders of the Southland are expected to attend the meeting.

Delegates expected to attend from Orange county are: George Raymer, secretary of Chamber of Commerce; Nat H. Neff, Arthur C. Anderson, Paul Bailey, and C. E. Bressler, all of Santa Ana; E. E. Campbell, N. T. Edwards and O. E. Gunther, Orange; G. C. Macleod, Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce, Balboa; John G. Mitchell, Garden Grove; and William Schumacher, Buena Park.

Concerted effort will be taken at this meeting to impress upon California congressmen the urgent necessity of preventing a cut by Congress of the funds allocated for fire prevention and protection of national forests in this state. The conservation committee is also working upon plans to eradicate the pine bark beetle in California.

Work of the highway committee which is now considering the orderly addition of roads to the state secondary highway system will also be considered. These roads are now supported by county taxation. The committee has recently made a survey of all the roads recommended for addition to the state system in Imperial, Riverside, and San Diego counties. The second tour of inspection, dealing principally with the highways in San Bernardino county, is to start February 9.

The reorganized industrial committee has before it problems of stabilizing the building industry, stabilizing and rotating employment and industrial waste.

J. E. Early, San Bernardino officer arrived here yesterday and took the prisoner to that county where he was to be given a hearing today.

Mrs. Barnhart has been on bail since that time, finally deciding to serve the jail sentence.

SEARS STORE HERE Installs Complete Furniture Line

"Due to the numerous requests of our customers to carry furniture in our Santa Ana store, we have decided to put in a full line," it was announced today by N. H. Bennett, newly appointed manager of the Sears, Roebuck store in Santa Ana.

"Upon receiving these requests I immediately went to Los Angeles, where I picked out a complete line of furniture and rugs, obtaining some outstanding buys. Fortunately I was able to get in on some buys made by the company for their annual 'February Furniture Event'."

Bennett stated it was the desire of Sears' to be a community institution, and that his store would carry the wanted merchandise that his customers demanded. He said that he believed by doing so that it would help overcome the evil of Santa Ana people going out of town to make their purchases.

There is an excess of 1,670,242 women over men in England.

Rollin Burns, 25, who said he was a salesman, which Santa Ana police officers are ready to admit since they are said to have found four pints of liquor on his person as he was making a delivery, was arrested on Fifth street, near Ross street, Saturday night and lodged in the county jail, charged with possession of liquor.

In a nearby car, officers reported they found 50 pints of whiskey, all of good quality. An address book, believed to contain a long list of customers names also was found on Burns. The list contained the names of a number of prominent citizens, it was reported.

Captain Jess Buckles, who made an investigation of the case said last night that Burns was merely the agent for a larger ring of bootleggers working in the city.

COUNCIL WILL CONDUCT TAXI HEARING TODAY

Santa Ana's city council will turn investigator tonight in a special meeting called for 7:30 p. m. at which time taxi cab operators and their drivers have been requested to appear before the council for the purpose of determining which, if any, have been violating city ordinances which would make them ineligible to drive cars here.

Charges that several local drivers have been operating cars in violation of the city ordinance, because of their past police records, were made by C. H. Eckles, proprietor of the Courtesy Cab company here and operator of the Santa Ana Bus line. The council will investigate these charges.

At a meeting held last week, all taxi operators were ordered to appear before the council this week and with them are expected to be their attorneys, several of whom have already been before the council for their clients pertaining to the council's failure to allow taxi cab concerns to operate here with city licenses.

This is another angle of the situation which the council expects to clear up with the investigation tonight.

Chief of Police F. W. Howard has been instructed to have police records available should the council want to dig into them to verify any of the charges made by Eckles.

S. A. Marine Gets Diploma for Study

Word was received here today that Corp. Merle F. Lurvey, United States Marine corps, native of Santa Ana, has recently been awarded a diploma from the Marine Corps Institute upon completion of a mechanical course in that institution. The diploma was forwarded to Santa Ana where Lurvey is stationed, and was accompanied by a letter from Maj. Gen. B. H. Fuller, marine corps commandant, praising the Santa Anan for his success as a student of internal combustion engines.

Corporal Lurvey, 30, was born in this city and before his enlistment made his home with an aunt, Mrs. Jessie M. Best, on Rural Route No. 4, this city. After a tour of duty with the marines in China, he reenlisted and was assigned to duty at San Diego, where he completed the course through correspondence with the Institute which is located in Washington, D. C.

Dirigible Visit Delayed by Rip

Because of an accident at Long Beach yesterday in which a hole was ripped in the gas bag, the dirigible Miss Enns Jettick was not able to be in Santa Ana today, according to E. J. Busch of the Fashion Bootery. The big ship was taken to Los Angeles for repairs and will make the trip to Santa Ana at a later date. Busch said that officers in charge of the ship said that the trip here would be made, probably later in the week.

LOAN CONCERNS TAKE STEPS TO LIMIT FUNDS

An important step aimed against the continued hysterical hoarding of funds was taken with the joint announcement of leading California building and loan associations today that they are invoking the new California Building and Loan Law in its provisions to limit withdrawals to disposable funds.

The action followed several conferences held recently in Los Angeles, which were attended by the state's leading building and loan representatives.

These conferences, it was stated, produced evidence to show that the bulk of withdrawals from California building and loan associations during 1931 is traceable to present-day hysteria, hoarding, unsound speculation or foreign investment; that only minor withdrawals represented true emergency need for funds.

Consistent Setp

The concerted action of these associations was given the endorsement of former Governor Friend W. Richardson, now California building and loan commissioner, who told those attending the conferences that such a step is consistent with sound building and loan fundamentals and is directed ultimately to California's welfare and prosperity.

Three building and loan associations in Orange county have joined the group. They are the Santa Ana branch of the Pacific States Savings and Loan company, the Anaheim Building and Loan association, and the Savings, Loan and Building association, both located in Anaheim.

Other building and loan groups in this city have not yet joined the movement and are undetermined as to whether or not they will follow the lead already set by the other organizations, officers said today.

Make Statement

In announcing the new policy the 16 associations called attention to the fact that for many years it has been the custom of the group to pay out savings upon request without restriction. The statement continued:

"This has been a special service and not one to which the customer is entitled, either legally or even equitably in view of the other advantages of this investment. It is indeed an exceptional service insofar as building and loan associations are concerned, because every association, properly run, must invest substantially all its funds in long term real estate loans repayable both as to principal and interest, in small monthly installments.

The amount of money, therefore collected by an association each month is relatively a small proportion of its total loans and, likewise, of the total amount that it owes its investors. That is why it is almost the invariable rule of building and loan associations throughout the world to require advance requests in writing when their savings customers desire funds.

"Even in abnormal times like these the undersigned associations have been and still are equipped and operated to meet at demand true emergency needs for funds, such as arise from sickness and unemployment, and even normal withdrawals.

Practice Abused

"However, it now becomes increasingly apparent that this accommodation is being gravely abused; that in many cases not normal need, but hysteria or selfishness is actuating withdrawals.

"As a consequence the undersigned associations for the past year have been unable to supply sufficient funds to stimulate and sustain home ownership. During this time the bulk of their cash receipts has gone to satisfy the demands of those who by removing their investments from constructive channels are contributing to the undermining of public confidence.

"Under these circumstances it is felt that in continuing to permit withdrawals without restriction the building and loan associations are not only failing to serve a useful purpose but, to the contrary, are encouraging impulses which aggravate and prolong the depression."

Commissioner Richardson said: "The practice of limiting withdrawals is no reflection whatever on the soundness of building and loan associations. The present action is in line with a sound fundamental policy which should govern all building and loan associations."

CALLING A HALT for the common good

FOR MANY YEARS it has been the custom of the undersigned building and loan associations to pay out savings upon request without restriction. This has been a special service and not one to which the customer is entitled, either legally or even equitably in view of the other advantages of his investment.

It is indeed an exceptional service insofar as building and loan associations are concerned, because every association, properly run, must invest substantially all its funds in long term real estate loans repayable both as to principal and interest, in small monthly installments. The amount of money, therefore, collected by an association each month is relatively a small proportion of its total loans, and, likewise, of the total amount that it owes its investors.

That is why it is almost the invariable rule of building and loan associations throughout the world to require advance requests in writing when their savings customers desire funds.

Even in abnormal times like these, the undersigned associations have been, and still are, equipped and operated to meet, at demand, true emergency needs for funds, such as arise from sickness and unemployment, and even normal withdrawals.

However, it now becomes increasingly apparent that this accommodation is being gravely abused; that in many cases not normal need, but hysteria or selfishness is actuating withdrawals.

As a consequence, the undersigned associations for the past year have been unable to supply sufficient funds to stimulate and sustain home ownership. During this time the bulk of their cash receipts has gone to satisfy the demands of those who, by removing their investments from constructive channels, are contributing to the undermining of public confidence.

Under the circumstances it is felt that in continuing to permit withdrawals without restriction, the building and loan associations are not only failing to serve a useful purpose but, to the contrary, are encouraging impulses which aggravate and prolong the depression.

Accordingly the undersigned Associations will hereafter limit withdrawals from disposable funds to amounts calculated to cover normal requirements. Thus we call a halt to unreasoning demands and reinforce our protection for all savings customers alike.

Moreover, the removal of this unnecessary pressure will permit us to deal more leniently with deserving home owners who have legitimate reasons for asking loan extensions, or re-financing on a basis in keeping with their present circumstances.

Further, by permitting us to function in an orderly, constructive and economic manner, our funds will continue to yield our customers favorable income while they contribute to the well being of the State as a whole.

In this step for the common good, we ask the cooperation of our thousands of loyal customers.

Remember: a dollar needlessly withdrawn from useful work merely postpones the return of normal times.

UNITED PROHIBITION GROUP TO HOLD MEET IN L. A.

It is anticipated that many Orange county residents will attend the luncheon to be given by the Prohibition Board of Strategy of Southern California at the Friday morning club, 940 South Figueroa street, Los Angeles, at 12:30 o'clock next Wednesday.

Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, president of the organization, will preside. The principal speaker will be Dr. Walter F. Dexter, president of Whittier college. Other speakers will be Mrs. Anna Marden DeVo and Mrs. Nelle G. Berger, national officers of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

The Prohibition Strategy Board of Southern California was recently organized to co-ordinate all temperance forces for the purpose of carrying on an educational campaign for the Eighteenth amendment in 1932, according to Mrs. Augusta W. Urquhart, chairman of the education committee of the strategy board. Twenty Southern California organizations are represented, they said. They include the W. C. T. U., Anti-Saloon League, Women's Law Enforcement committee, Prohibition party, Allied Dries and other local groups.

Reservations for the luncheon, announced as the Loyalty luncheon, are being made at strategy board headquarters, 517 American Bank building, Los Angeles, telephone Michigan 8287.

NEW REFORMATION TO BE CONSIDERED

Recalling the fact that Martin Luther, nearly 400 years ago, worked out his ideas of the reforms needed in the church of his day, and made them public to the world, the Rev. O. Scott McFarland, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Santa Ana, has worked out his own ideas as to the "new reformation" which is required by the events of today.

These ideas form the basis of the lecture to be given at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the Y. M. C. A. by the Rev. Mr. McFarland, when he is scheduled to speak on "The New Reformation" at the regular Monday evening discussion group. He will discuss the obligations of the church in view of the social and economic conditions, as well as in relation to spiritual needs of the time.

This is the fourth in the series of studies of the economic crisis from the Christian viewpoint. Both men and women are welcome, and young people are especially invited to hear the Rev. Mr. McFarland's talk this evening, according to the announcement issued by Secretary R. C. Smedley, of the Y. M. C. A.

CHILDREN'S CHARTER IS BASIS OF EDUCATIONAL COURSE FOR S. A. PARENTS

A children's charter, drawn up by the 1931 White House conference on child health and protection, has been made public here in connection with a new course on parental education to be offered by Dr. Gertrude Laws. This course is to be conducted each Tuesday at 9:30 a. m. in the Fremont school, and opens tomorrow. Dr. Laws is well known here, having given similar courses in the past. The children's charter follows:

"1. For every child spiritual and moral training to help him to stand firm under the pressure of life.

"2. For every child understanding and the guarding of his personality as his most precious right.

"3. For every child a home and that love and security which a home provides; and for that child who must receive foster care, the nearest substitute for his own home.

"4. For every child full preparation for his birth, his mother receiving prenatal, natal, and post-natal care; and the establishment of such protective measures as will make child-bearing safer.

"5. For every child health protection through adolescence, including: periodical health examinations and, where needed, care of specialists and hospital treatment; regular dental examinations and care of the teeth; protective and preventive measures against communicable diseases; the insurance of life.

"6. For every child from birth through adolescence, promotion of health including health instruction and a health program, wholesome physical and mental recreation, with teachers and leaders adequately trained.

"7. For every child a dwelling place safe, sanitary and wholesome, with reasonable provisions for privacy, free from conditions which tend to thwart his development; and a home environment harmonious and enriching.

"8. For every child a school which is safe from hazards, sanitary, properly equipped, lighted, and well ventilated. For younger children nursery schools and kindergartens to supplement home care.

"9. For every child a community which recognizes and plans for his needs, protects him against physical dangers, moral hazards and diseases; provides him with safe and wholesome places for play and recreation; and makes provision of his cultural and social needs.

"10. For every child an education which, through the discovery and development of his individual abilities, prepares him for life; and through training and vocational guidance prepares him for a living which will yield him the maximum of satisfaction.

"11. For every child such teaching and training as will prepare him for successful parenthood, homemaking, and the rights of citizenship; and, for parents, supplementary training to fit them to deal wisely with the problems of parenthood.

"12. For every child education for safety and protection against accidents to which modern conditions subject him—those to which he is directly exposed and those which, through loss or maiming of his parents, affect him indirectly.

"13. For every child who is blind, deaf, crippled, or otherwise physically handicapped, and for the child who is mentally handicapped, such measures as will early discover and diagnose his handicap, provide care and treatment, and so train him that he may become an asset to society rather than a liability. Expenses for these services should be borne publicly where they cannot be privately met.

"14. For every child who is in conflict with society the right to be dealt with intelligently as society's charge, not society's outcast; with the home, the school, the church, the court and the institution when needed, shaped to return him whenever possible to the normal stream of life.

"15. Adequate Standards. "15. For every child the right to grow up in a family with an adequate standard of living and the security of a stable income as the surest safeguard against social handicaps.

"16. For every child protection against labor that stunts growth either physical or mental, that limits education, that deprives children of the right of comradeship, of play, and of joy.

"17. For every rural child as satisfactory (a) schooling and health services as for the city child, and an extension to rural families of social, recreational, and cultural facilities.

"18. To supplement the home and the school in the training of youth, and to return to them those interests of which modern life tends to cheat children, every stimulation and encouragement should be given to the extension and development of the voluntary youth organizations.

"19. To make everywhere available these minimum protections of health and welfare of children, there should be a district, county or community organization for health, education and welfare, with full time officials, coordinating with a state wide program which will be responsive to a nation wide service of general information, statistics, and scientific research. This should include:

(a) Trained, full time public health officials, with public health nurses, sanitary inspection, and laboratory workers.

(b) Available hospital beds.

(c) Full time public welfare service for the relief, aid, and guidance of children in special need due to poverty, misfortune, or behavior difficulties, and for the protection of children from abuse, neglect, exploitation, or moral hazard.

AUTO TOURISTS BREAK RECORD DURING 1931

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 1.—A thundering herd of tourists, representing a veritable trail of gold, swarmed into California via every available highway during 1931, shattering all existing records, and making the tourist business one of the state's major industries.

A total of 872,214 California-bound tourists "checked in" at the state's 28 border quarantine stations situated in 15 counties, during 1931, according to the state department of agriculture.

This is an increase of 63,333 tourists over the 1930 "crop" which totaled 808,874 or an average net gain of 1200 tourists per week.

An average of slightly less than two persons entered the state per minute via automobile during the entire calendar year of 1931, although the average was 2.9 persons per minute during the six month peak summer season ending October 30, last, according to Director Moulton.

Representing virtually every state and foreign nation, the 1931 "tourist crop," swarmed across the state's borders at the rate of approximately 16,800 weekly, in comparison with a weekly average of 15,500 during 1930. This is an average of 2500 tourists every 24 hours or more than 100 every 60 minutes.

"The volume of tourist travel has been exceedingly gratifying," said Director Dudley Moulton, "and the weekly increase far beyond expectations. Translated into dollars, the value of the tourist travel must represent many millions of dollars to California business, even on a conservative basis. It is a veritable trail of gold streaming into the state. While the bulk of the tourists were destined for Los Angeles, San Francisco or Alameda counties, it would appear obvious that every section of the state benefited economically by this influx, particularly those 15 sparsely settled counties through which the tourists enter the Golden State," he said.

Makes Comparison. According to statistics compiled in the office of A. C. Fleury, chief of the division of quarantine administration, a total of 847,229 automobiles, carrying 2,374,748 passengers, were "checked in" at the border stations during 1931, as compared with a total of 676,052 machines carrying 1,864,389 arriving during the preceding year. This is a net gain of 410,359 passengers and 171,268 machines over 1930.

Of the total number of passengers, 572,214 persons were tourists, while the remaining 1,402,534 were Californians returning from visits to Nevada and other eastern states.

Foreign cars arriving in California totaled 324,726, an increase of 31,226 over 1930, while the volume of domestic cars returning to California increased 140,262 to a new high level of 622,924 autos.

BANKERS TO DEBATE DEBT CANCELLATION

Harold Fish, Marie M. Hall and Arthur Woodworth, members of the Orange county team, will uphold the negative, while the Los Angeles team will handle the affirmative.

WELFARE BOARD HELPS P.-T. A. SOUP KITCHEN

ORANGE, Feb. 1.—A soup kitchen for the Mexican children of El Modena has been made possible by the donation of $25 by the Orange Community Welfare board. The El Modena P.-T. A. plans to give hot soup to 100 children each noon.

Miss Phyllis Wanamaker, Americanization teacher of the district, stated at a board meeting that need was acute in the El Modena district and that unless the children could be provided with a more varied diet disease would creep in. Woolen pieces are needed to make comforters for families, she declared, and at the present time 25 are being made in adult classes at the center.

In her work of adult education, Miss Wanamaker said she had contacted some misery that it had become almost unbearable. Miss Yana Jones, county nurse working in the district, declared that many families in dire want were too proud to go to the welfare store for help and that they must be given aid tactfully for the sake of the undernourished children in the families. All are anxious to retain their self-respect, she said.

The work of the P.-T. A. of the city in making clothes for children of the grade schools was commended by the welfare board and $10 was donated to buy new materials for clothing. Mrs. C. H. Adams, in charge of the work, stated that the city council of the P.-T. A. was not trying to work separately from the board but were supplementing the board's work. She declared that the need for underwear was great.

Mrs. Adams told of a family of five children who had no shoes or stockings and where a boy of the family, in the second year of high school, could not attend for lack of clothes. She said that the P.-T. A. of Santa Ana was aiding 25 Orange children.

Mrs. Robert Johnson, head of the Red Cross work in this district, pointed out that all ex-veterans asking for help should be reported to her.

There's one Right Size for Cigarettes

THE CHESTERFIELD STANDARD

Length of cigarette
2 3/4 inches or 70 m/m.
Circumference
1-1/16 inches or 27 m/m.

● Examine various cigarettes, and you'll find they are not all alike in size. Yet our scientists say their tests and research fix one definite size standard as the best. For a given length, our experts say, there is one right diameter . . . to make the draft right . . . to make the cigarette burn right.

Not only that, when the size is right, the cigarette lasts longer, and smokes cooler. And that "right" size is exactly the standard Chesterfield size.

A detail? Of course—but a mighty important one, figured in extra coolness and comfort. It's by constant attention to just such details that Chesterfield sets cigarette standards.

Notice how round and full each Chesterfield is—how firmly packed. There are two "electric detectives" on every packing machine, to check this detail also!

The right size . . . and the right quality. Chesterfield never changes either one. Measure them any way you want—with ruler, microscope, or test-tube.

Or measure them in the surest way of all—by milder and better taste. And you'll find—They Satisfy! Good, they've got to be good!

THEY'RE Milder • • THEY'RE Pure • • THEY TASTE BETTER • • They Satisfy

Shifts in program hours for radio KREG have again changed the time of Art Cannon's "Sticker" program. These programs are the oldest and most popular features broadcast by the local station.

Beginning tonight Cannon will present his program every Monday night in the main studio at 6:30 p. m. and on Wednesday will present the feature from the Anaheim studio of KREG. The Anaheim program will be broadcast at 7 p. m.

Requests may be telephoned any time during the week to the main studio at Santa Ana, the Anaheim studio located in the Ashford Music Shop, or to Chapman-Wickett's in Fullerton. Those telephoning requests are urged to specify the program on which their request number is to be placed.

Started months ago thousands of radio listeners have participated in this feature that, in the past, was broadcast every Wednesday night. Many valuable prizes have been awarded persons who have requested piano selections that Cannon could not play. So popular has this feature become that it was considered advisable to present it twice weekly.

PERENNIAL MUTT

From New York comes the news that the Olympic urge has stirred the blood of four Olympics and a deputy inspector now. That suggests at once that one of the Olympic events should be a brick-tossing contest. McGrath surely would win.

A couple of years back, McGrath gave pursuit to an Italian who had just killed a man. The fugitive had leaped onto a barge. McGrath jumped to another barge which happened to be loaded with bricks.

The famous Olympic weight and hammer tosser started moving the brick pile, one by one, in the direction of the culprit. As the missiles rained down about the Italian's ears, he surrendered, tossing his revolver into the water. McGrath's name was placed upon the roll of honor for that adventure.

One cold November night, Matt dived 30 feet off a bridge to save a tipsy sailor bent on suicide. For that he received the congressional medal.

McGrath relates as his greatest thrill watching the Stars and Stripes being raised at London to show that John Flanagan and he had won their weight events in the 1906 Olympic games.

A hero then, he went back to Tipperary to see his folks (his mother and father are still living). Matt was the oldest of a family of 11.

"I was received heartily," says he, "at great estates where they would have chased me a few years before. I threw the hammer on their fine lawns. And when I got back I was the guest of President Roosevelt at Oyster Bay."

REJUVENATION

McGrath is 63 now, but his chances for coming back are not any worse than some others half his age who are training to return to the Olympic wars. One of these is Willie Ritola, who competed for Finland in the 1924 and 1928 Olympics. He wants to run in the 26-mile marathon, an event that Nurmi already has adopted for his own. Nurmi broke Ritola's heart in match races a few years ago, but sometimes they get over those broken hearts.

MURCHISON, HUSSEL

After being on the shelf for five years, Loren Murchison declared the other day that Olympic sprint candidates would have to reckon with him. And some of those candidates had not even dreamed a spiked shoe in the days when Murchison was flashing to brilliant victories.

Ben Hedges, former Princeton all-around star, is high-jumping again, after two years out of training.

Frank Hussey, who made the 1924 Olympic team while still in high school, is another hopeful. He ran as a member of the 400-meter relay team that won at Paris, setting a world record. In 1925, before entering college, he won a 100-yard championship at San Francisco, making 9.45. But, after that performance, he seemed to fade, and missed qualifying for the sprint squad selected for the 1928 Olympics.

They say of Hussey that he was burned out by too much competition in high school. Yet he is said to be more physically fit now than he was in his high school days. Could it have been lack of incentive?

S. A. SKEETMEN TO 'SHOOT' SAN DIEGO

Santa Ana skeet shooters begin competition in a recently organized Southern California league next Sunday, opposing San Diego club in a match on the West Fifth street range at 9 a. m.

A. L. Steward was first in a club shoot yesterday, hitting 24 out of a possible 25 targets. W. W. Berry and A. Q. Johnson tied for second with 23. Other scores: Sam Nau and Sam Collins, 21; Charles Ryan and Dick Holly, 18; Theo. Reuter and Sam Kraemer, 17; B. J. McReynolds, 16, and Lloyd Smith, 15.

DEMPSEY GETS $20,000 OFFER TO BOX SANTA

STOCKTON, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey had under consideration today a $20,000 offer to fight Jose Santa, giant Portuguese, as he prepared for the first California bout of his comeback campaign here tonight.

The former heavyweight champion will meet one "Bad News" Johnson, Los Angeles negro, in a scheduled four round encounter but he has suggested that promoters have some one else on hand in case Johnson fails to stay the route.

The Santa offer came from the American Legion at Sacramento, where the fight would be held December Day. Dempsey said he would discuss the bout with his manager, Leonard Sacks, when they meet next week.

Dempsey will go from here to Milwaukee, Wis., where he is scheduled to fight February 8. He expressed confidence that the National Boxing association suspension would be lifted since the Mississippi charges, which caused the action, are due to "a misunderstanding."

It was claimed that Dempsey was a silent party in promoting a Mississippi fight in which he appeared and that a number of bills remained unpaid.

SCHAAF, PAULINO IN LONG MATCH FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Jack Sharkey's underdog, Ernie SchAAF, will have a chance to show his prowess over the champion 15-round route Friday night.

This giant blond who eventually will take up where Jack leaves off and incidentally in the financial interest of the same Sharkey, comes to Madison Square Garden to box Paulino Uzcudun.

Both asked for the full route, Paulino having discovered in his 20-round fracas with Max Baer in Reno that distance is his forte.

SchAAF, with an idea of some day fighting for the heavyweight title, also wanted to go a long distance battle under his waistline.

Notre Dame Stars Bump Ex-Trojans

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Jack Elder, scoring two touchdowns, today was the hero of a group of ex-Notre Dame football players headed by Frank Cardozo, who defeated a team of ex-University of Southern California players 12 to 6 on a rain-soaked field. Brubaker, formerly of Loyola, scored the loser's touchdown in the final period. Attendance was 2000.

FINALS DUE ON SUNDAY: BELL, CRESS FAVORED

Santa Ana's midwinter tennis tournament moved along today with the "old guard" still supreme and heavily favored to remain in complete control of the situation when semi-final and final rounds are run off next Sunday.

Second round matches were held at Frances Willard junior high school yesterday although rain, beginning just before noon, clipped the program short.

Six players survived. Four of them have been at or near the top of the ladder here for several years. The veterans who won were City Champion Randolph Bell, who hasn't lost a match in two years; Johnny Cress and Gilmore Ward, both former leaders of the local net world, and Arno Finster, a perpetual threat to the big three. This select group is invaded by Lewis and Wetherell, Santa Ana H's sophomore sensation, and Loren Housley a newcomer from Orange, whose existence in the tournament probably was extended by the storm, being live-five in games to Wetherell when their match was necessarily postponed.

None of the seasoned players had trouble except Bell who was somewhat extended by Eddie West before winning 6-4, 6-4. Bell broke West's service once in each set, which represented his margin of victory.

Cress, always linked with Bell as co-favorite in Santa Ana tournament play, advanced into the semi-finals also by eliminating Frank Bettis, 6-0, 6-2. Cress and Bell are in different brackets, probably will clash in the finals Sunday afternoon.

Gil Ward, a threat with his crisp overhead shots and sound attacking game in general, won from Dr. Ray Smith with surprising ease, 6-0, 6-2. Smith's fast drives and cuts failed to disturb the steady Ward.

Wetherell won as he pleased from C. D. Hardesty, 6-0, 6-0, and was on his way to another love set over Housley when rain interfered.

Tournament officials announced today that a third round match between Arno Finster and Ward would be played some time this week, the winner going into the semi-finals and opposing Randolph Bell Sunday at 9 a. m. The Wetherell-Housley match must also be completed during the week, in order that the survivor may go on with Cress Sunday.

Semi-final matches will be two-out-of-three-sets, but the Sunday afternoon finals will be three-out-of-five.

The midwinter doubles will begin the following Sunday, February 14. Entries may be filed with Secretary Cress at 118 East Fourth street. This competition is open to all comers.

Clark Wins Texas Open Golf Crown

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Clarence Clark, tall, blond professional from Bloomfield, N. J., today held the golf championship of Texas. Three days of consistent golf, climaxed by a par-breaking round, gave him the title at the Texas Open tournament.

Clark turned in cards of 71-72-74-69, to give him a total score of 287 and prize money of $800. Par on the Brackenridge park course is 71.

Stuhldreher To Return As Irish Coach

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Harry Stuhldreher, quarterback of the "Four Horsemen" of 1924 and head coach at Villanova for the past six years, today was considered the likely successor to Jack Chevigny as Notre Dame backfield coach.

Marchmont Schwartz, all-American halfback for the past two years, who will return to Notre Dame next year to complete his law course probably will be named assistant backfield coach.

Chevigny announced his resignation in Chicago over the week end.

TRACK PRACTICE ON IN EARNEST AT HI. COLLEGE

Track competition in which all lettermen are eligible is scheduled for Santa Ana high school and junior college athletes this week.

Coach Clyde Patton will conduct a handicap meet among his high school candidates Friday. On the same afternoon Coach Bill Cook will conduct his annual interclass track meet between junior college freshmen and sophomores.

With the completion of the high school basketball schedule, Coaches Patton and Cook are now free to turn their attention toward track, and with the assistance of "Chuck" Webber, former U. S. C. hurdler, should have things booming at Poly field.

The Saint turnout will be increased this week by the addition of such veterans as "Red" Kidder, "To" Blower, "Porky" Bell, Walt Hendrie, Clair Preininger and Bob Mitchell from the basket delegation, to say nothing of a few incoming graduates from the city's junior high schools, including Bruce Swishheim, Frances Willard's promising young sprinter.

Sophomores won the Saints' novice interclass meet, last week, but there is a doubt in Coach Cook's mind as to whether the sophomore class of the junior college will walk away with 1932 honors.

With such stars as Paul Jacques, James Daneri, Martin Lorenson and Frank Nagamatsu on the freshmen roster, and candidates Doyle Gilbert, Tom Cone, Bob Durbin, Carl Schoenberg, Ellwood Lindley, Emmett Seacord, Bert Wilkins, Don Harrison, Paul Bruce and E. A. Jack representing the sophomores, competition promises to be close indeed.

Regular 1932 captain, Gilbert has been appointed to pilot the sophomores in the interclass event. The freshmen captaincy rests between Jacques and Daneri. Jacques is certain to take first in the high jump and a first or second in the high hurdles, while Daneri should place in five events: broad jump, 440-yard dash, shot put, javelin, and discus. The sophomores will clean up in the distance events. Gilbert will take a first in the broad jump and possibly a first in the pole vault.

Bruins Beat Cards On Floor, 28 to 18

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The University of California at Los Angeles basketball team remained in the race for the conference Southern division title today by virtue of a 28 to 18 victory over Stanford Saturday night.

The Bruins never did get going during the evening, and scored only one field goal during the first half.

The Bruins go north to battle the Berkeley Bears this week-end, with Southern California and Stanford tangling here.

Reiselt Ahead In 3-Cushion Tourney

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(UP)—Otto Reiselt, Philadelphia, now holds a full-game lead in the world's championship three-cushion billiard tournament.

Last night two favorites were upset. Arnie Kleckhefer, Chicago, in second place, was beaten by Frank Scoville, Buffalo, 50-35, 55 innings. Gus Copulos, Eugene, Ore., lost to Len Kenney, Chicago, 50-35, 47 innings.

WILSON SIGNS CONTRACT FOR $15,000 YEAR

BY LES CONKLIN (N.S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(INS)—Lewis (Hack) Wilson, the battling game cock who has been the stormy petrel of the National league for years, will become one of Manager Max Carey's chickens today when he signs a one-year contract with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

It is understood the document will call for an annual stipend of $15,000 with a possible clause providing a bonus for four-base smacks in case the squatty outfielder should go on a home run spree this year such as he enjoyed in 1930 with the Chicago Cubs.

Such a clause may be costly, albeit pleasing, one for the club because "Hack" himself declares he expects to hit at least 45 homers this season. Last year he hit 13 for the Cubs against 56 in 1930.

Although he drew $33,000 last year, Hackdemon will jump at the chance to take an $18,000 cut today. The St. Louis Cardinals, who obtained the pudge one from the Cubs only to sell him to Brooklyn, had offered "Hack" a living wage of only $7500 for 1932.

The signing was to be a gala affair, conducted amid the boom of flashlights and the grinding of newscast cameras. After the ceremony "Hack" was to repair by easy stages to Hot Springs, Ark., for a bath treatment expected to reduce his avoirdupois from 210 pounds to 190.

Wilson was the lift of the party last evening at the dinner of the baseball writers. Both his new manager, Carey, and his old one, Joe McCarthy, told "Hack" they expected him to have a big year.

CRACK GERMAN BOB STEERSMAN INJURED

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., Feb. 1.—(UP)—Bespangled Hans Kilian will pilot the four-man and two-man German bobsled in the Winter Olympic Games, opening Thursday because Captain Werner Zahn, darling World war aviator and ranking German bob steersman, was injured yesterday in a spectacular bob sled mishap.

Captain Zahn's left arm was broken. Three sledders with him were hurt when their recently designed, bullet-shaped sled, Fram III, plunged off the icy run and crashed into trees 120 feet away.

Dr. Hans Melhorn suffered a fractured right hand yesterday and will be out of competition.

Heinrich Rosner, No. 2 man of the German team, suffered spine injuries. Charles Devine, youthful Lake Placid sportsman who was riding with the Germans, was bruised and cut about the body and head.

RAIN WRECKS SPORT PROGRAMS IN CITY

Rain wrecked Santa Ana's sports program yesterday.

It caused postponement of all games in the Orange County baseball league.

It curtailed the midwinter tennis tournament.

It prevented golf matches at the Santa Ana and Willowick courses.

It stopped the Santa Ana-South Pasadena baseball game at Hancock Oil park.

Babe Ruth Off to Yank Drill Ground

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.—(UP)—America's best known athlete, George Herman (Babe) Ruth, departed today by automobile for St. Petersburg, Fla., where the New York Yankees do their spring training.

BOWLING

Matches scheduled for Santa Ana traveling league teams this week follow:
Monday (Mercantile)—A's Auto Service vs. Louis A. Fellissimo company at Santa Ana; Pienner's Radiator shop at Monrovia.

CRITICALLY ILL

Barney Dreyfuss (below), owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, is critically ill following a major operation.

CUBS BID FOR OUTFIELDER TO REPLACE 'HACK'

By GEORGE KIRKSEY

CHICAGO, Feb. 1.—(UP)—The Chicago Cubs will attempt to obtain another outfielder at the National league meeting in New York tomorrow, President William Veeck indicated today before he boarded an eastbound train with Manager Rogers Hornsby.

Hornsby was summoned here hurriedly last night to go to New York to open up trading relations with the New York meeting.

"We want an outfielder," was Veeck's only comment about the proposed deal.

Johnny Frederick, Brooklyn, Paul Waner, Pittsburgh, and "Chick" Hafey, St. Louis, are three outfielders mentioned as suitable to the Cubs.

The Cubs might trade a pitcher, Lester Sweetland, or Ed Baecht to the Robins, for Frederick, who seems to be out of a regular job of O'Doul, Wilson and Herman come through as expected.

Paul Waner has twice sent his unsigned contract back to the Pirates. He is said to be disgusted with terms offered him. The Cubs would be willing to pay his price, but Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh owner, has frequently said he had no intentions of selling or trading the elder Waner. The Cubs may bid high for Waner's services in an attempt to sway Dreyfuss.

ANDERSON'S BASKET KEEPS TROY ON TOP

OAKLAND, Feb. 1.—(UP)—"Sonny" Anderson, substitute guard, was the hero of the Southern California basketball team today by his feat in winning a crucial game from the California Bears here and putting the Trojans in the lead again in the Coast conference, Southern division.

Anderson's free throw, made good in the last 20 seconds of play, accounted for the 28 to 27 margin by which Southern California won.

The Trojans lost Friday night, giving the Bears a tie with them for first place, but Saturday night's victory made S. C. the leader.

SATURDAY'S RESULTS
Fullerton 31, Riverside 22.
Santa Ana 38, Pomona 30.
San Bernardino 26, Citrus 14.

Recognition on a greater scale was being enjoyed in the Orange Empire basketball conference today by Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana junior college Dons, who upset Coach I. H. Van Cleave's Pomona Cassacks in Andrews gymnasium Saturday night, 38 to 30.

The victory was Santa Ana's second, the defeat was Pomona's first. With two wins and one loss, the Dons are now on even terms with the Cassacks, who hold victories over San Bernardino and Riverside.

The Keoughs still remain Santa Ana's deadliest basketball threats. After being pestered by "Zeke" Keough of Chaffey in past seasons, the Dons met up with his brother Jack in the Pomona lineup Saturday, and Jack did as well as his brother. Both Keoughs live in Pomona, but "Zeke" thought he could fare better at Ontario. Jack will be on Pomona's 1932 football team.

Pomona Gets Early Lead
Thanks to the brilliant Keough, Pomona registered a lead in the opening minutes of the game, an advantage it was unable to hold for any length of time, however. Flery dribbling, characterized the past Santa Ana opponents, was cast aside by the well-groomed Cassacks, who passed back and forth until they found an opening toward Santa Ana's goal. But Jimmie Hall and Russell Sullivan, Don guards, caused the Pomona team to pass back and forth more than intended.

Max Stull, center, started things for Santa Ana, made eight of the first nine points. The unusual ease with which he handled centers of the Chaffey and San Bernardino games, however, was not present in his work against Pomona's Hess. The rangy visitor outpointed Stull at the tip-off position, mainly because the Pomona tip-off plays were better organized.

The court argument was thrilling moments. "Hen" Thierly of Santa Ana, "Curley" Dean of Pomona saw to that. Thierly, with only three field goals, copped scoring honors with 13 points. He made seven free throws, five straight. Dean, unable to pierce Santa Ana's scotch defense, hit the mess.

Lindley Back in Lineup
Ellwood Lindley, guard, was back in Santa Ana's lineup after a lengthy illness. Although not starting, he saw considerable duty alternating with Hall.

The player showing the most improvement over past games was Fred Brooks, freshman center, who went in when Coach Foote inserted Harold Spangler, Mike Santa Cruz, Thierly and Lindley. Thierly was substituted for but once, Stull going to forward to make room for Brooks.

Forty-nine fouls committed in 40 minutes of play tell something of the mad scramble staged by the two colleges. Hall and Sullivan were "counted" out with four personal fouls for Santa Ana. Hess went out for Pomona for the Dons made 19 fouls, Pomona 20.

Preparing for its conference game here Saturday night with Citrus junior college, Santa Ana will play the Orange 20-30 Club, leaders of the Orange County league, here Wednesday night. The Citrus contest will be Santa Ana's final home engagement, the Dons traveling to Riverside and Fullerton for their remaining two games.

Santa Ana (38) (30) Pomona Seacord (5) (10) Keough Thierly (11) (10) Walker Stitt (11) (10) Hesse Sullivan (2) (10) Kling Hall (10) (10) Grady Subaling

LETTER TO S. A. PEOPLE BRINGS NEWS OF CHINA

With news of fighting and probable war heard from all points in China, word has just been received here by the Rev. and Mrs. George B. Wiltzie, of 510 East Chestnut street, Santa Ana, from their daughter, Mrs. H. W. Worley, a missionary in Foochow, China, telling of the activities of bandits there and the release of a fellow missionary woman who had been taken captive by the bandits. It was learned today.

Following is a portion of the letter: "The big news, over which we are all so rejoiced, is that Harriett Halverstadt was released yesterday, and got home last night. She was held captive for 12 days. Not allowed to leave one room, in which 14 men were also held captive. After two days one of them was taken out and used as a secretary to the bandits. He thought he saw a chance to escape and ran. The bandits peppered him with shots, of course killing him. He was a well-to-do merchant of Amoy."

"Two students were set free by the payment of $100. There was absolutely nothing in the room but straw (on a dirt floor) and Harriett and four men were allowed one comforter together. Luckily Harriett was dressed warmly. They took her sweater and a scarf from her. All she had to eat was cold rice and salted fish. Twice she asked for something hot and they brought her sweet potatoes. They also brought her a handkerchief when she asked for it."

"She seems in fairly good condition although the doctor fears a nervous reaction, now that the terrific strain is over. The men (except two students) were all tortured to make them promise to pay more money. Harriett was not asked for money. She was held until the government would promise to take the bandit chief into the army with his men."

Miss Halverstadt, whose experience is related in the letter, has long been a missionary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church and is held in high regard. It is learned. At the last annual conference in Foochow she was made a local preacher by Bishop Gowdy.

She has been an intimate friend in the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Harry W. Worley for many years. Her work now is in the same field that the Worleys formerly had."

HOT ICE BOX

MIAMI, Fla.—Can you imagine an ice box getting hot enough to catch on fire? Well, one here did, and two fire engines were called out in the early morning to subdue the flame. Instead of keeping cool like it should have, the machine got hot under the collar when its motor jammed, allowing electricity to flow through it until insulation was scorched away.

50,000 AUTOS ARE LISTED IN ORANGE COUNTY

Orange county, despite the depression, registered a total of 50,049 motor vehicles last year.

These were divided as follows: passenger cars, 45,254; solid-tired trucks, 104; pneumatic trucks, 2530; motorcycles, 191; solid trailers, 652; and pneumatic trailers, 1318.

Fee-paid registrations for the state as a whole mounted to the new high total of 2,107,275, according to Russell Bevans, state registrar of motor vehicles.

"The total figure includes motorcycles and trailers, but does not include the 38,199 vehicles registered during the exempt license classifications nor the 101,554 cars drive into the state during the year by non-resident drivers," said Bevans. "The gain over 1930 was 7982."

The registration totals will be used as a basis for apportioning motor vehicle license funds to various counties and to the state department of public works for highway purposes.

Athens was founded by private traders.

San Marino, 33 square miles in area, is the smallest republic.

HUSBANDS GET DEGREES IN 4 OF 5 ACTIONS

For the first time in several months the male sex won a round Friday in Orange county divorce proceedings. Out of three divorces and two annulments granted in superior court, four went to men.

Dr. Wallace T. Harbottle, of Anaheim, whose wife once charged that he exerted an hypnotic influence over her, was granted an annulment of the marriage to Edna Harbottle by Superior Judge J. L. Ames. An uncontested hearing.

His complaint said Mrs. Harbottle was legally incapable of marrying him when they were wed in Canada in 1923, she already having a husband named Roy Long at that time. Dr. Harbottle was awarded custody of four minor children.

W. C. Marrow of Santa Ana was granted an annulment of his marriage to Dorothy Barrow at Rene New, last July. His complaint alleged that Mrs. Marrow had just secured a divorce from a former husband when she married him. Judge Ames granted the annulment.

The three interlocutory divorce decrees were granted by Superior Judge James L. Allen. Dr. George W. Forester of Santa Ana was granted a divorce from Mrs. Lillian Forester on grounds of desertion. They married in 1921 and separated in 1925.

Franklin A. Hantsberger of Santa Ana secured a decree of divorce from Jennie S. Hantsberger on grounds of cruelty. They married in 1919, and separated on January 4, 1932.

Maudie S. Cavender was the lone woman to secure a decree. She was given a divorce from C. Ray Cavender on a charge of desertion. They married in 1920 and separated in 1929.

Former Pastor At Tustin Dies In L. A.

Dr. George C. Butterfield, former pastor of the Tustin Presbyterian church, and recently connected with Sunday School Union work in Southern California, died Thursday at his home in Los Angeles. The funeral was scheduled at the Highland Park Presbyterian church, Avenue 53 and Pasadena avenue, at 2 p. m., today. He is survived by his daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Butterfield Schenck, who is prominent in musical circles, and who assisted Dr. Butterfield in his work.

YOUNG PEOPLE ARE URGED TO STAY IN SCHOOL

A statement addressed to superintendents and school officials from the president's organization on unemployment relief and made public here by Dr. Percy R. Davis, school superintendent, urges that every effort should be made to encourage and assist young people to stay in school.

That renewed interest should be focused at this time upon the need for community efforts toward this end was the feeling expressed at a recent conference of representatives from the National Education association, the federal office of education, the national congress of parents and teachers, the federal board for vocational education and kindred agencies, with the president's organization on unemployment relief, the statement said.

"The need for such encouragement and helpfulness is accentuated because of the tendency, even in normal times, for students to drop out of school between semesters," it continued.

"The splendid spirit put forth by school officials and teachers during this period when financial conditions have caused great hardship has been one of the bright spots in the depression. Even when schools are crowded and teaching loads are heavy, educators have deeply realized that it is far better for young people to be enrolled in our schools than to be found merely forming habits of idleness."

Cost Production Studies Started

Work is being started on cost of production studies for sugar beets in Orange county according to an announcement today by Assistant Farm Advisor E. E. Eastman. The studies will be the first accurate cost surveys ever made in the state, Eastman said. There are 12 beet growers who now are participating in the project.

EXHIBITS SHOW PROGRESS MADE IN EDUCATION

The school administration building on North Main street was all "dressed up" today, ready for visits from patrons and parents, and with displays and exhibits of work turned out by children which indicate the development in education since the school days of mother, father—and even big brother and sister.

Hallways and offices invite the eye with framed posters. Inside the offices and rooms are exhibits of articles made by children.

There also are collections of colorful and bizarre gifts sent to Santa Ana school children by pupils in Japan and Samoa in return for similar remembrances sent by local students.

Many of the posters are typical of the advertising art work used in Europe and were secured free through travel and advertising agencies, according to Hazel Nell Bemus, art and visual education supervisor.

Books bound by elementary school youngsters, the covers colored with paper actually made and strikingly colored by them; basket work, weaving, Indian rugs and blankets, a Mexican cart, a covered wagon and driver, a farm yard with animals in it, a temple, binoculars made from the cardboard core inside wrapping twine, a leaded glass window with colored glass that was just "picked up," displays of writing projects and dozens of other things are there to arouse the interest of visitors.

In the center of one room is a group of musical instruments made from boxes by first grade students, not omitting a microphone, used in "broadcasting."

Then there are large cards on which other children have written music composed by them, with words to go with it.

The offices of the supervisors, Miss Bemus, art supervisor, Francis Beeson, music supervisor, Miss O. M. Wherry, writing supervisor, and Miss Frances Giddings, supervisor of activity work in the lower grades, all contain evidence of the educational activity.

All other offices are "dressed up" for visitors, that of Dr. Percy R. Davis, school superintendent; George Newcomb, secretary to the board of education; E. D. Boynton, auditor and Dr. Murray Bates, school physician. The teachers' library, the offices of the adult education department under Mrs. Golden Weston, the stock room, the room where visual education material is kept, all are ready to do their bit toward presenting a picture of educational methods.

There is another room where every day members of the various Parent Teacher associations of the city are busy remodelling and repairing clothes for those who need them, making quilts, preparing shoes for feet which haven't any, in a project to give help where help is needed. According to Mrs. Roy Beall, president of the city Parent Teacher association, over 10,500 garments have been renovated in this program.

Court Notes

J. C. Coulter, deputy in the division of labor statistics and law enforcement, has brought suit in superior court against the Rio Grande Oil company and William S. Simeone, seeking judgment for $198 asserted to be due in wages to Harold Kingston ($283, George Jorgenson ($70), and J. W. Muse ($100). The complaint said the oil company had attached property belonging to Sizemore and that he was indebted to the men named for labor. The complaint also said the oil company had declined to recognize the claim.

Seeking judgment for $400 asserted to be due on a promissory note, D. D. Clark has brought suit in superior court against R. D. Lewis and Maude M. Lewis. John F. Morton charged with non support, has pleaded not guilty in superior court and a jury trial has been scheduled for February 11 at 10 a. m.

QUICKEST WAY TO KNOCK A COLD

Millions Say of This Proved Way You Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

If you want quick relief from a cold, go back to first principles and use something you know does the business—don't start "trying" a lot of fancy ideas or remedies. Even a "little" cold is too dangerous to take chances on.

Get Hill's Cascara Quinine. A scientific formula made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy, not to cure a hundred different things. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water, too—that's all. Soon those mean, aching pain in head and body begin to go; the cold breaks up; poisons leave your system. Almost before you know it, you feel like a new person.

If it doesn't do that, your money back. Get a box now. You'll be surprised at the speed with which it works. Costs only a few cents.

Keith Thompson, who pleaded guilty to grand theft charges and asked probation, have been granted it for three years and have been sentenced to one year in the county jail by the superior court. They were ordered to work at the county park or the county hospital. The men were charged with stealing a midget car belonging to Harry DeVore, on January 11.

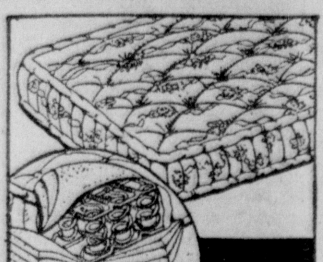

Bert T. Stark has pleaded guilty in superior court to a charge of driving a car while drunk. He waived time for pronouncement and has been sentenced to six months in the county jail, being ordered to work at the county park.

A petition to revoke probation for Carl Fletcher, to whom it was granted for three years, along with a six months county jail sentence on June 5, 1931, has been granted by the superior court. Fletcher got into trouble over a charge of issuing bank checks with intent to defraud. In connection with the order for revocation of probation he was sentenced to one year in the county jail. The petition for revocation of probation was filed after Fletcher is asserted to have got into trouble at Los Angeles.

Addresses Heard Yesterday In Santa Ana Churches

S. A. CHURCH IS
HOST TO STATE
SYNOD MEETING

The California district synod of the American Lutheran church will convene here tomorrow in St. Peter Lutheran church, Sixth and Garvey streets, of which the Rev. H. W. Meyer is pastor. Delegates and pastors from southern and Southern California will be here for the week to deliberate and pass upon business of the church for the year 1932. The sessions will last until February 5.

Approximately 32 official delegates will be on hand for the convocation and other visitors will swell this number somewhat, according to the Rev. Mr. Meyer.

At 10 a. m. tomorrow the convention will open at St. Peter Lutheran church. Sessions will continue daily, from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. and lasting through Friday. All will be open to the public.

Dr. C. C. Hein and Dr. Henry Schuh, president and stewardship secretary, respectively, of the American Lutheran church, arrived today for the conference. Dr. Hein will preach at the Santa Ana church tomorrow at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Schuh will speak on Thursday at 7:30 p. m.

The Rev. C. H. S. Hunziker of Anaheim is president of the California district.

PREJUDICE IS DISCUSSED BY
REV. HOUSTON

The Rev. C. C. Houston, pastor of the Southside Church of Christ, spoke yesterday on "Conquering Prejudices." His address in part follows:

"A prejudiced man is one who has formed a decision without having made a thorough investigation of the claims of others as he should. We are all prejudiced more or less. It is not the best to make an adverse judgment till we at least think we have enough facts in the case to justify such. It is generally the case that we are hard to turn away from our prejudices.

"Jesus had that to contend with in the Jewish worship. On one occasion He said, 'In vain do you worship me, teaching as your doctrine the precepts or commandments of men.' Many were so tied to their traditions and thus so prejudiced that they would not hear the Savior in trying to turn them away. We note then that prejudice will often close the ears as in the case of the first martyr, Stephen. They stopped their ears. Do people stop their ears today? I often find it so.

"The spirit of kindness is one of our means of conquering some of our prejudices. If we were not so prejudiced to some way or doctrine and could keep our hearts always open to the reception of the truth from whatever source it comes, it would be far better for us in driving error and prejudice out of our lives. We make doctrines and ways of men instead of God's."

READING OVER SHOULDERS

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Love" was the subject of the lesson-sermon yesterday at the Santa Ana First Church of Christ, Scientist. The Golden Text presented Paul's words, "Be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace; and the God of love and peace shall be with you."

One of the Scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon cited Jeremiah's words, "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love; therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee." Another citation included John's words: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. He that loveth not knoweth not God; for God is love. . . . And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him."

A passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, stated, "Jesus' teaching and practice of truth involved such a sacrifice as makes us admit its principle to be love."

PERSON AND
LIFE OF CHRIST
SERMON TOPIC

The Rev. Paul Andres, pastor of the Christian Spiritual Science church, delivered a sermon on Sunday in which he said "The greatest problem in the field of history centers in the person and life of Christ. His text was 'I am the door; by me if any man enter in, he shall be saved, and shall go in and out and find pasture.' He spoke in part as follows:

"The greatest problem in the field of history centers in the person and life of Christ. Who He was, what He was, how and why He came to be. It are questions that have not lost and will not lose their interest for us and for mankind. For the problems that center in the Master have this peculiarity: they are not individual, but general—concern a person, but the world. How we are to judge Him is not simply a curious point for historical criticism, but a vital matter for religion.

"Jesus Christ is the most powerful spiritual force that ever operated for good on and in humanity. He is today what He has been for centuries—an object of reverence and love to the good, the cause of remorse and change, penitence and hope to the bad; of moral strength to the morally weak, of inspiration to the despondent, consolation to the desolate, and cheer to the dying.

"He has created the typical virtues and moral ambitions of civilized man; has been to the benighted a motive to beneficence, to the selfish a persuasion to self-forgetful obedience; and has become the living ideal that has steered and raised, awed and guided youth, braced and ennobled manhood, mellowed and beautified age. No other life has done such work, no other person has been made to bear such transcendent and mysterious meanings.

"It is impossible to touch Jesus without touching millions of

SERMON THEME

At the Broadway and Walnut Street Church of Christ yesterday, the pastor, James H. Sewell, took for his subject the salvation of Noah, reading from Genesis 6:8-9: "And it repented the Lord that he had made man on the earth, and it grieved him at his heart. And the Lord said, I will destroy man whom I have created from the face of the earth; both man, and beast, and the creeping thing, the fowls of the air; for it repenteth me that I have made them. But Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord."

Among other things the pastor said:

"We learn from the Bible that Noah was saved by grace. He was not a perfect man, but there was something in his nature that pleased God. He did not merit salvation perhaps, there was something in his spirit that pleased God, and that caused him to be chosen for salvation when all the rest of mankind except his own family was swept from the earth.

"He was saved by the grace of God. He was also saved by faith. Moved with fear, he prepared at the command of God an ark, to the saving of his house. If he had not built the ark, But he prepared the ark according to specification, and when the time came he took his family into the ark and they were saved.

"He was saved by water. I would not venture to say that, but I quote from the Apostle Peter: 'When once the long suffering of God waited in the days of Noah, while the ark was a preparing, wherein few, that is, eight souls were saved by water.' First Peter 3:20.

"Noah was saved by grace, by faith, by obedience, and by water. 'We are saved by baptism. I would not say it of myself, if the Apostle Peter did not so express it. He says: 'the like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of good conscience toward God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ.' First Peter 3:21. We must have faith, but faith is unto salvation. We must have repentance, but repentance is also unto salvation; we must confess Christ, but confession is unto salvation. But when we are baptized, we are baptized into Christ. Gal. 3:27.

"Our young people need to be taught reverence. They need to be taught reverence for other people, their rights, their comfort, their well-being. They need to be taught reverence for God. I think perhaps that they do not have a reverence for God and for sacred things and sacred places because they have never been taught to worship. One can't worship without reverence and I am inclined to think we don't develop reverence without worship.

"Our children need to have a quality of loyalty developed in them. Loyalty to responsibility, a loyalty that will keep them under a responsibility even though the inducements to draw them away are attractive and many. They need a loyalty to their homes and to their own families. Every child ought to have a pride in the family name and reputation. Many a tragedy would never have occurred if some young people had felt a loyalty to, and responsibility for, the family to which they belong.

"Our children ought to be taught loyalty to great ideas and ideals. Many of the facts of science and history and literature which our children are taught in school will be forgotten. But if they have implanted within them some great ideas and ideals, and if they have developed within them a sense of loyalty to the highest, they are going to be pretty well equipped for life."

"We are saved by baptism. I would not say it of myself, if the Apostle Peter did not so express it. He says: 'the like figure whereunto even baptism doth also now save us (not the putting away of the filth of the flesh, but the answer of good conscience toward God) by the resurrection of Jesus Christ.' First Peter 3:21. We must have faith, but faith is unto salvation. We must have repentance, but repentance is also unto salvation; we must confess Christ, but confession is unto salvation. But when we are baptized, we are baptized into Christ. Gal. 3:27.

Phoenicians are said to have come upon glass making when the crew of a Phoenician vessel landed on a Palestine river bank to prepare food. No rocks were available so the seamen used lumps of soda from their cargo to support their cooking utensils. Heat of the fire fused the beach sand and soda, forming a transparent mass.

SANTA ANA CHILDREN NEED TO BE TAUGHT MANNERS,
COURTESY, PASTOR AVERS

"St. Ann's babies need to be taught manners, etiquette, courtesy," said the Rev. Perry Frederick Schrock in his sermon at the First Congregational church last night. The topic of his talk was suggested by a picture that was being used in the service, "Helen's Babies," a picture based upon Helen Hunt Jackson's book of that name. The Rev. Mr. Schrock said in part:

"We are all interested in children. We like pictures that have children in them. We like books that deal with children. Witness the great popularity of such books as 'Helen's Babies,' or 'Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch' or the 'Little Women' and 'Little Men' of an earlier day.

"But we are primarily interested in our own children—the children of our home and of our city. We are willing to make great sacrifices in our homes that the children may have opportunities for development. As citizens we are willing to bear heavy taxes that our children may have the best possible educational advantages. We have splendid schools with a fine body of trained teachers and equipment that is almost unbelievable to us oldsters who had such meager equipment in our school days. We have a fine family of children too. St. Ann may well be proud of her babies.

"As I watch our children though, there are certain things that need to be done for them. In this they are probably no different from children of other days. But we are concerned now with the children of today. Our children today need to be taught manners, etiquette, courtesy. I am quite concerned over the lack of this evidence of refinement. It shows itself in the disorder at public gatherings. It's a problem in churches and school assemblies. I can't understand why children from homes of culture and refinement should create disorder at a public meeting or be rude and discourteous to a Sunday school teacher. The home and the school and the church ought to get together on a unified program for the teaching of the most elementary things about manners, courtesy, the conduct of ladies and gentlemen.

"Our young people need to be taught reverence. They need to be taught reverence for other people, their rights, their comfort, their well-being. They need to be taught reverence for God. I think perhaps that they do not have a reverence for God and for sacred things and sacred places because they have never been taught to worship. One can't worship without reverence and I am inclined to think we don't develop reverence without worship.

"Our children need to have a quality of loyalty developed in them. Loyalty to responsibility, a loyalty that will keep them under a responsibility even though the inducements to draw them away are attractive and many. They need a loyalty to their homes and to their own families. Every child ought to have a pride in the family name and reputation. Many a tragedy would never have occurred if some young people had felt a loyalty to, and responsibility for, the family to which they belong.

"Our children ought to be taught loyalty to great ideas and ideals. Many of the facts of science and history and literature which our children are taught in school will be forgotten. But if they have implanted within them some great ideas and ideals, and if they have developed within them a sense of loyalty to the highest, they are going to be pretty well equipped for life."

TALKS OF HARD TIMES, WAR AND PROHIBITION

War, prohibition and "hard times" were subjects brought briefly before members of the Men's Community Bible class in a talk during the lesson period at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday morning by E. A. Cox, class president.

"I have no patience with the attitude of Japan in the present difficulty," he declared, "and if we had a president with any backbone he would make Japan get out of China. If Japan has to have room for expansion, and Manchuria is the logical place, why let the nations of the world determine it, then let them condemn it and have Japan pay for it."

Speaking on debt cancellation, Cox said: "The disposition on the part of any nation or individual to refuse payment of debts owed is reprehensible and not to be thought of. They must remember that the dancer has to pay the fiddler. The moratorium to help debtors is all right, but regulation isn't. There is no argument of nullification of the eighteenth amendment, even if some of the wet do have a measure providing for it, ready to come before Congress," the class leader said in commenting on prohibition. "They have nothing to offer. Violation is the fault of the people, not the fault of the law. And we are not good Americans unless we do support our laws. It took 50 years to get rid of piracy and as long to get rid of slavery. We are just getting started in the fight to wipe out liquor and we must keep at it."

In commenting on present economic conditions Cox said: "Times like these bring out the best in men as fire proves gold. Those who turn to God are able to withstand adversity and come out of it stronger and better than ever. There is sin in the world and God has been long-suffering, but when His wrath is loosed, war to those on whom it falls. It is an awful thing to come before God for condemnation, but it is far worse not to fall into His arms for salvation."

During the session N. H. Leonard spoke briefly, telling of the work of the Y. M. C. A. and inviting the men of the class to participate in its program.

A special musical feature that was greatly enjoyed by members of the class was a group of vocal numbers by the Harrell Sisters Trio. This trio, composed of Lucile, LaVerne and Lillian Harrell, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Harrell, is well known throughout Southern California and begins an engagement as staff members of KFOX in Long Beach today.

ASSERTS MAN
MUST AID LORD
IN SALVATION

"But Ninety Days to Live" was the subject of the Rev. U. E. Harding, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, Sunday morning. He took for his text St. John 9:4, "I must work the works of Him that sent me while it is day for the night cometh when no man can work." He said in part:

"The work of Jesus was crowded into three years. He knew that he had but three brief years left of his life among men. What would you do if you knew you only had 90 days to live?"

The pastor told of the book by Charles M. Sheldon entitled "The Story of the Seven Days." The story is of a man who had a vision that he had but seven days to live and thus did more in those seven days than he had done in his entire life up to this time.

"We hear a great deal today about our Lord returning soon, and most of you say that you believe that teaching. But do you believe it? Do you act like it? If you really believed it you would do more for the salvation of your own children and that of your neighbors. Some of you have talked a one night corn cure more than you have talked of the Balm of Gilead. If you knew the Lord would be here in 90 days from now, would you make any changes in your life and labors?"

"The Jesus plan is to save the world through the church. You can pray till you are hoarse but unless God can find someone to work with Him to help answer your prayers, that prayer will go unanswered.

"Faith comes by hearing and hearing comes by the word of God. How shall they hear without a teacher and how shall they teach except they be sent? We may be looking to the Lord but He is looking to us."

The pastor said that there were but 90 days left in the fiscal year of the district and he challenged the church to see what might be done in the next 90 days to win people to Christ and the church. At the close of the message five persons professed Christ.

Appreciation Of
Worth of Others
Prompted by Love

That friendship should be based upon worth was the theme of a sermon delivered yesterday at the Modern Woodmen hall by Ida L. Ewing, minister of the National Federation of Spiritual Science church No. 68.

She said in part: "It is discovered that it is really love alone that prompts one to appreciate fully the worth of others. But today we are discovering also that this gratitude is not abundant, and toward the Creator of all good gifts it is scarcer still. As we give love, we are loved.

"Many times deeds of love are trampled upon or misjudged through lack of soul culture. These are selfish friendships and their love vanishes as dew. The moment things do not come their way. Do not leave the words unspoken when a kindness is shown you. Let the mirror of your soul reflect love and friendship and an understanding heart. God's eternal friendship is yours for the acceptance. Work to keep it."

Ebell Hostesses Plan Bridge Party for Tomorrow

So gratifying a response has rewarded Mrs. C. P. Boyer, Miss Peckie Drake and Mrs. Samuel Nani in their plans for an Ebell benefit party, that indications today pointed to their having to employ the peacock room of the clubhouse for their entertaining tomorrow afternoon, rather than the lounge as was first planned.

The hostess trio, representing the Third Travel section of Ebell society, will present the party for the benefit of the general Ebell, and it is expected that its revenue will add a pleasing sum to the society treasury. Reservations for twenty tables have been made already, and the hostesses were anticipating additional requests today for tables or places. Their plan is to have equipment in reserve also for those who decide at the last minute to be present. Pretty prizes have been selected for successful contestants, and refreshments will be served at the close of play.

Grace Rowley Chapter Plans Valentine Affair

Invitations were out this week for the Valentine tea to be given Saturday afternoon, February 13, from 2 to 4 o'clock in the Y. W. C. A. with girls of the Grace Rowley chapter of the First Presbyterian church as hostesses. Miss Eliza Venn, is president of the chapter, and Miss Eva Deane Cawley is general chairman of the affair.

The organization is composed of young women of the church, whose object is the study of missions. There will be a food sale in connection with the tea, proceeds of which will be used for the missionary fund.

There is to be a program during the afternoon, with Miss Margaret Gaebe as committee chairman. A play is being arranged as part of the entertainment.

Mrs. F. E. Coulter is patroness of the group. The teas are annual events and heretofore have been held in her home.

"Mrs. Cheyney" Cast Is Complimented At Party

Culminating the successful production on Friday and Saturday nights of the Frederick Lonsdale comedy, "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" by a capable cast of Santa Ana Community Players, was the merry party of Saturday night in the Ebell clubhouse peacock room, adjoining the auditorium where the play was presented.

"The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" which attracted such a large first-night audience on Friday, drew an even larger one Saturday night, when it played to practically a capacity house. Members of the cast and their director were made the honor guests at the after-theater party, where they were accorded congratulations of their co-workers in the association.

It has come to be an accepted part of the production, to stage a party for the cast after the final presentation of the play, and that of Saturday night was unusually enthusiastic because of the success of the production. The honor guests included Gladys Simpson Shafer, director; Mona Summers Smith, "Mrs. Cheyney"; Warren Fletcher, Earl Fraser, Leon Eckles, Joseph Peterson, Julia Hyde, Juanita Wright Fletcher, Bee Dee Spurgeon, Margaret Gaebe, Edith Ellis, Valmer Clark, Bob White, Ted Roth and Northrup Ellis.

Among the guests were members of the governing board including the president, William H. Spurgeon; and a number of friends of the cast from Hollywood, Pomona, San Diego and other Southernland cities. The capable association members, who assist on the various committees, scenery, costume, properties, music, etc., joined in making the affair enjoyable, and each member added to the supply of sandwiches, moulded salad and coffee served buffet style.

Commend Church Worker For Service on Eve Of 84th Birthday

Twenty years of active church service were recognized by members of the Trinity Lutheran church congregation at the dinner party given in honor of Mrs. Louise Uehling, 418 Fruit street, at the church, East Sixth and Lacy streets, Sunday noon. Mrs. Uehling will celebrate her 84th birthday tomorrow.

Born in Germany, Mrs. Uehling came to this country when about 15 years of age and resided for a number of years in Nebraska before moving to Santa Ana some score of years ago. Since her arrival here she has been actively affiliated with Trinity Lutheran church, dividing her energies between congregational activities and the affairs of the Aid society of that church, with which organization she several active connection only a year ago.

Mrs. Uehling, who holds the position of "senior member" of the church, was seated at the table of honor which had been adorned with a beautiful basket of pink and white carnations, stocks of an orchid hue, baby breath and fern. The bouquet was the gift of Mrs. Uehling's many friends in the church. Two other banquet tables were attractively decorated.

The Rev. William Schmook, pastor of the church, voiced the congregation's appreciation for Mrs. Uehling's long service in a few remarks addressed to the honoree and to those who had gathered to express the same sentiment. Formal congratulations from the members of the church were also read by the Rev. Mr. Schmook and those present took advantage of the reception following the banquet to second, personally, this expression of gratitude.

Co-Hostesses Preside At Evening Affair For Bride-elect

When Mrs. Evelyn Finster and Miss Bertha Williams entertained Saturday night in the former's home, 314 Wakeham avenue, they complimented Miss Louise Maslin, whose marriage to Earl Trueblood is to be an event of February 7.

Pink and white sweet peas were used in decking the home for the merry occasion. Games of appropriate nature were enjoyed, and Mrs. George Maslin was fortunate in winning high prize of the evening. Miss Louise Maslin and Miss Pearl Oberlin received other awards.

The hostesses had devised an interesting plan for presenting the array of miscellaneous gifts to the bride-elect. Cupids arranged throughout the home, proved to be on ribbons which when followed by Miss Maslin, led to the prettily wrapped gifts from her assembled friends.

Although the gifts were of miscellaneous nature, some of the guests availed themselves of the opportunity to start a set of crystal for the bride-elect. Sherberts, plates and other pieces in amber were included.

At a late hour, Mrs. Finster and Miss Williams spread the tables with pretty linens, centering them with Gold of Ophir and pink roses combined with maidenhair fern. Refreshments of chicken salad, baby rolls and pink and white lemon moulds centered with hearts were served. Mrs. Paul Hall and Mrs. George Maslin assisted in serving.

Those present other than the honoree, Miss Maslin, and the co-hostesses, Mrs. Finster and Miss Williams were Mrs. Anna Trueblood, Mrs. Burns, Mrs. Helen Burns, Mrs. Madeline Coulson, Mrs. Paul Hall, Mrs. George Maslin, Miss Pearl Oberlin, Miss Marie Labrucherie, Miss Emma Williams, Miss Ruth Swanson, Miss Celeste Curley, Mrs. Homer Lambert and Mrs. John Upson.

Former Residents of Pennsylvania Are Dinner Guests

Former residents of Gorry, Penn., were delightfully entertained Sunday when Mrs. Jennie Fay and Miss Ruth Card were hosts in their home on West Washington avenue. A delicious dinner was served at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Colgrove and Mary Kinney, of Linnwood; Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Fay and daughter, Patricia-Jane, and Mrs. Joseph Morse and son, Arthur, of Huntington Park; the Misses Jane and Pearl McCray of Los Angeles, and the hostesses, Mrs. Fay and Miss Card.

Mrs. C. S. McCray is spending a few days in this city visiting with the hostesses.

For serving a refreshment course of ice-cream and a prettily decorated birthday cake, Mrs. Kent appointed tables in red and white. Clever heart-shaped suet cups were filled with candy hearts, with special favors, wrapped in the vivid color theme of the evening. The honoree was presented with many lovely gifts.

Sister and Brother Give Pre-dance Dinner Party

Among the successful events of the past week, nothing exceeded in importance among members of the younger set, the Leap Year dance given in the Orange Veranda clubhouse by the Associated Women Students of Santa Ana junior college.

Various dinner parties were staged in advance of the dance, one of the prettiest of which was that given by Miss Elizabeth Smith and Don Smith in their home, 120 South Broadway.

The half dozen guests asked to share the hospitality of the sister and brother hosts, were appreciative of the artistic details which added charm to the dinner hour, and the delectable menu planned and served by Miss Smith in her capacity as a Leap Year hostess.

A beautiful crystal tree whose dominant tones were in pink to harmonize with place cards and other appointments, centered the table were indicated for the hosts, Miss Elizabeth Smith and Don Smith. Miss Eugenia Gire, Miss Frances Bowman, Miss Betty Smith and Messrs. Bert Wilkins, Don Harrison and Ray Gleason.

Following the dinner, the young men of the party were escorted with all the ceremony appropriate to a leap year festivity, to the scene of the dance in Orange.

Evening of Cards is Pleasant Event in Fenske Home

Not only did the party given late last week by Mrs. C. J. Fenske prove a successful benefit for St. Anne's Altar society, but it also provided a thoroughly enjoyable evening for the guests.

Guests assembled in the Fenske home at 601 South Parton street. The games played, some electing the bridge series and an equal number choosing 500. In the contest, Mrs. F. Sheeler and D. Jerry scored high at bridge; Mrs. L. L. Meric and Mrs. B. Gillespie scored second, and Miss Evangeline Wolford and S. W. Corrie, scored low. Among the 500 contestants, high scores were made by Mrs. C. E. Borchard and J. M. Borchard; second high by Mrs. C. B. Hillebrand and E. Haseman, and low by Mr. and Mrs. Antone Borchard. Steamed Pudding Dessert
Steamed pudding desserts will be popular for some weeks yet. If you relegate these puddings to Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners because of the time required to cook them and the mussiness of reheating for another dessert, you will welcome this idea for a more efficient way of handling.

First, use a recipe which you know to be good, for "following after strange gods" and strange pudding recipes usually spells disaster. The pudding recipe being what it should, the idea is to break up quantities and cook in individual containers, some holding but two portions, others four portions. Peanut butter and jelly glasses are just right for two-portion puddings; half-pound coffee tins hold four large portions. The glasses take just an hour to cook; the tins twice that time. Stored in a cool place, with air-tight covers, they keep perfectly, and can be reheated while dinner preparation is under way.

Be sure and put a thin board in the bottom of the kettle to prevent the glass from cracking; have the water two-thirds of the way up the sides of the glasses, and a weight on top to keep them from dancing. Of course, you know the covers must be absolutely air-tight or the pudding will be heavy.

TODAY'S RECIPE
Sea Pie
1/2 pound salt pork
3 Bermuda onions
1/2 pound can of corned beef
Equal amount of cooked beef
3 large potatoes
Rich biscuit dough to line dish and cover.
Any sort of cooked meat will do, although the old recipe calls for corned beef.

Make a rich biscuit dough, using half as much more shortening. Line a baking dish with the dough, rolled thin, put in a layer of sliced onion, then a layer of thin sliced beef, then a layer of potatoes, covered with thin slices of the salt pork. Continue adding the various layers until the dish is full. Season with plenty of pepper, but no salt; cover with the dough.

But first a word about how the pudding will be cooked. The old method called for tying it in a floured sack, immersing the whole thing in boiling water and cooking it thus for two hours. That might not be so convenient for today, so let me suggest the addition of a half cup of water to the contents of the pie, and making instead of boiling. Hot oven at first to cook the biscuit dough, then slow for about 1 1/4 hours to cook the contents of the pie.

This Sea Pie will serve six, the calories total almost 3000, with a good percentage of this total in fats. One cooked vegetable and a salad complete this meat course. The dessert should be low in energy calories. How about baked apples, canned fruit or berries, sliced oranges or some grapefruit?

STATE REPORTS 2000 NOW IN LABOR CAMPS

SACRAMENTO, CAL., Jan. 29—(U.P.)—California has gone into the "feeding" business in a big way.

And as evidence the state is doing an efficient job, officials of the state department of natural resources reported today that 2000 unemployed men at the state labor camps are being fed at a cost of only 25 cents per day per man.

This cost provides for three meals a day, and camp reports reveal that many of the men have gained from 5 to 7 pounds since going to work in the camps.

Trained Men Aid
"It was thought at first there would be difficulty in securing cooks who would work for their food, and shelter," Daniel H. Blood, director of the department said. "But it has been found that plenty of cooks are available as well as kitchen men and waiters. Trained men selected by the labor camp committee have been able to buy high quality foodstuffs at rock bottom prices."

At no time, State forester M. B. Pratt, reported, has it been necessary to establish a "no work-eats" policy.

"The men have entered these camps of their own free will and are privileged to leave at any time. The men accept their tasks willingly and do more than is expected of them in return for their free food and shelter," Pratt said.

Govern Selves
Incidentally most of the camps are self-governing. Blood revealed, and by-laws have been established by the men themselves which are enforced by means of a "Kangaroo court." The plan has proved most successful, with the enforcement of the rules taken off the shoulders of the forest officials in charge of the camps.

While no date has been set for the discontinuance of the camps, officials have taken up the problem of closing camps. A proposed plan provides that the men shall be released gradually, with free transportation to points where employment may be considered likely.

Hile Named Head Bean Department

Vernon Hile of Talbert, chairman of the bean growers department being formulated in the Orange County Farm Bureau has been elected director for the organization to sit with the Farm Bureau, at a meeting held last night in the courthouse annex.

After Brad Hellis, chairman of the committee on by-laws, made a report for his committee, the constitution and by-laws were accepted at the recent meeting of the group.

"HATCHET MAN"

Edward G. Robinson appears in his latest success, "The Hatchet man," starting at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow. The star of "Little Caesar" has just as mighty a role but a far different one.

NEWSPAPER STORY AT WEST COAST IS STIRRING DRAMA

"X Marks the Spot," a powerful newspaper story that is packed to the brim with action and suspense, opened a three-day run at the Fox West Coast theater yesterday.

Lew Cody has the principal role in the newspaper drama, with Wallace Ford, Sally Blane, Fred Kohler and Mary Nolan in other prominent roles.

Although the picture has the earmarks of a gangster film, it is not, but deals with a life of a newspaper reporter who, having accepted a favor from a gangster on one occasion, learns that he

'HATCHET MAN' SEEN HERE TOMORROW

Edward G. Robinson, whose "Little Caesar" started the entire film industry making gangster pictures, none of which ever equalled it will be seen in a new type role for him at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow. The picture is "The Hatchet Man."

In "The Hatchet Man," which recently opened in Los Angeles, Robinson is cast as an Oriental. In this day and time when the Orient is made prominent because of the war in China, the picture is at least timely. It is said to be a masterpiece for action and suspense.

Loretta Young is the girl in the plot. She, too, is made up as an Oriental. The story revolves around a Chinese who finds his wife untrue to him and his revenge.

THIEVES GET $45 FROM BOX IN YARD

Thieves who are believed to have known "the lay of the land" stole $45 in cash from a secret hiding place of A. G. Helburg, proprietor of the Texico Service station at Sixteenth and North Main streets it was reported to the police Saturday.

Helburg has been in a habit of hiding the money under a box in the yard near the building. Last night he hid $45. This morning the money was gone.

Helburg explained that a number of boys looted around the station every night, but this was the only clue he could give Officer A. T. Holmes, who investigated.

CHATTERTON FILM ENDS RUN TODAY

"Tomorrow and Tomorrow," latest starring vehicle for Ruth Chatterton, opened a two-day engagement at the Fox Broadway theater yesterday. The picture will be seen here for the last time tonight.

The story of a married woman, resident of a small Indiana town, who seeks romance and finds it with a well known Vienna surgeon who is in this country on a lecture tour, makes a splendid background for Miss Chatterton's latest picture venture.

Soon after her escapade, the film story jumps over a seven-year period and finds the woman the mother of a youth who is desperately ill with brain fever. Only the noted surgeon can perform the operation and the mother is undecided whether to call him to her boy and allow her husband to know her secret or to allow the boy to undergo an operation by another surgeon with the chances for his recovery lessened.

The picture is heavy, but there is a romance in it that makes for good entertainment throughout.

A Fight For a Taxi Clean-Up

Plain Talk by C. H. ECKLES

In the same Santa Ana Daily Register (Tuesday's) that reported my fight before your city council for clean transportation in Santa Ana, you read the following:

Santa Anans Held In Mexico For Smuggling

The report names two women, one of whom was reported to have been recently arrested in a liquor raid in her home on Buaro Road, and a man, "DAN SHERFEY, FORMER TAXI DRIVER HERE." Later in the Register article you read: "Sherfey is well known here, having been arrested three times on charges of drunkenness and once on a charge of disturbing the peace."

SUPPOSE THIS TAXI DRIVER HAD BEEN DRUNK SOME NIGHT WHEN HE CALLED TO ESCORT YOUR WIFE OR DAUGHTER TO THE THEATRE

Men like these have been among those who have killed your bus service. Running at less than cost in the daytime and making their only profits at night, bootlegging, etc. Red Buses and Courtesy Cabs are already giving you clean service and can be continued if transportation is placed under strict city control and regulation. I stand ready to give it or I will step aside and let someone else do so.

Our local bus service has spoken for itself for the last 27 months. Our Courtesy Cabs are already winning public favor. Your local Board of Education will vouch for our clean school transportation. We transport nearly 1,000 school children twice daily for six schools in Whittier and Santa Ana.

FOLLOWING ARE EXTRACTS FROM LETTERS PRESENTED TO YOUR CITY AUTHORITIES AND BOARD OF EDUCATION WHEN APPLICATION WAS MADE FOR CITY BUS PERMIT AND SCHOOL TRANSPORTATION WORK:

"Mr. Eckles has operated a bus service in this city for approximately four years (written in 1929), having taken over the franchise of the Pacific Electric Company at the time said company abandoned its bus service here. Through careful management and expert knowledge of the transportation service needed, Mr. Eckles has successfully built up and expanded service in the most gratifying manner for the traveling public. We cannot recommend him too highly for his ability along these lines and assure any person who may read this that we will be glad to answer individually any questions which may be sent us concerning the general reputation of the bearer.

Signed C. A. CARDEN,

Ass't Trust Officer, Whittier Branch, Bank of America.

"I am informed that Mr. Eckles is thoroughly reliable and has operated for the past four years (written in 1929) a service very satisfactory to the officials of Whittier."

Signed, O. A., SMITH,

Passenger Traffic Manager of The Pacific Electric Ry. Co.

"Mr. Eckles has been furnishing the transportation in the South Whittier School District for the past two years and has been awarded a contract for the next three years. He has given us excellent service and equipment. He employs competent drivers and more than lives up to his contract in every respect. Mr. Eckles was operating on a monthly basis last year and was losing money during the last few months due to an unexpected increase in the enrollment but he furnished extra equipment and gave us the same service as before. Mr. Eckles assumes all responsibilities of the transportation, thus relieving the school as well as saving a great deal in depreciation and operating expense. I heartily recommend Mr. Eckles to you as a man of high standing in his community, a good business man, and in every respect a man of his word.

Signed, WM. H. JOHNSON,

District Superintendent.

"This is to certify that I have been personally acquainted with Mr. C. H. Eckles of Whittier for several years last past. He operates the Whittier Bus Line and also transports the children of East Whittier School. He uses great care in his work and his services have been satisfactory in the city and school district. He has taken over work here when others could not succeed, and by fair, courteous treatment has made a good record. I believe he will make good if given an opportunity to serve.

Signed, ARTHUR G. WRAY,

City Attorney of Whittier.

"As clerk of the East Whittier School Board for the past 3 1/2 years, I am glad to say that we have had Mr. Eckles for the past four years as our bus contractor. He has given us very faithful, careful and satisfactory service, taking as much of the responsibilities as is possible for a bus contractor to do, thus relieving to a great extent, the Board and Principal, of this sometimes very annoying problem. He has been particular to select careful drivers, always ready to cooperate in maintaining discipline on the buses, selecting routes to accommodate the most patrons, and, in fact, in anything which might improve the service. We are, at the beginning of this school year, entering into a new three year's contract with him which will in itself be evidence to you of our appreciation of, and confidence in his services.

Signed L. W. MORGAN.

"Our business relations with Mr. Eckles have always been most satisfactory. We feel satisfied that any offer he may make for bus service in Santa Ana, will if accepted, be carried out to the fullest extent. We have no hesitancy in endorsing him to your attention and bespeak your consideration of his offer."

Signed, F. D. HOWELL,

General Manager, Motor Transit Co.

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The giant took the glass and said, "I guess you little lads have read about real strange things happening. Well, you will see one soon. However, we will wait a while. A plan I have will make you smile. I'm going to serve you all some lunch because it's almost noon!"

In glee the bunch began to squeal! Cried Scouty, "Fine! Bring on the meal! I know we all are hungry and some food will taste just right. But I will help prepare it. Gee, you always can depend on me. To earn my dinner I will gladly work with all my might."

"Well, thank you, son," the giant said. "All I need to do is ahead and take soup from the ice box. I can heat it in no time. There's hardly work for more than one. I'll get the meal because it's fun. Just wait a minute, lads, and then up to the table climb."

It didn't seem much time at all until they heard the giant call.

"Already for our little feast." Then they sat down to eat. In half an hour they all were through. The giant said, "I now will do a little stunt that I feel sure will turn out quite a treat."

He grabbed the magnifying glass and said, "Now all of you must pass before this thing, one at a time. 'Twill make you Tiniest grow real quickly to your normal size. Why say, you won't believe your eyes." "How you can do that," Scouty said, "I really do not know."

"All right, you're first. Please step right out," the giant cried. Then came a shout, "Oh, look! Wee Scouty's growing. My, he's big as he can be." And sure enough, the lad grew fat. "Well, goodness me, just think of that," said Duncy. "When you're through with him, please do the same with me."

EXPERIENCE OF NAAMAN CITED BY REV. HUNTER

FULLERTON, Feb. 1.—The task at hand as a Step Toward the Larger Ideal was the subject of the Sunday morning sermon given by the Rev. Graham C. Hunter, pastor of the Presbyterian church.

Choosing as his text, 2 Kings 5:13, the Rev. Mr. Hunter told of the religious experience of Naaman, who was afflicted with leprosy. Through a prophet he received the word to go down to the river Jordan and wash seven times, and "you will be clean." He said that Naaman wanted to do things his way and that he was impatient; but that he had a sense of religion and that he followed the words of advice given by the prophet and became clean.

He said that the experience of Naaman became a parable of our time. At the present time, there is a condition in the world not unlike that experienced by Naaman. There is a time of need with a world-wide depression evident. There is suffering with many apparent social injustices and perhaps of greater importance even, was the threat of war which is now near. He said that the world should know its diseases and that there is that need to be well again, the pastor said.

He urged his listeners not to insist on being the center of the picture and to be not proud of heart. He said that the best of our attempts at social service are much needed; but "are far too futile."

"God sees what the human race ought to do," said the Rev. Mr. Hunter. "The people are inclined to depend too much on themselves—on the armies and the navies rather than on the will of God. People should search their hearts and put themselves at God's disposal as did Naaman, and Naaman had to learn that his cure could not come immediately but that he must wait seven times in the River Jordan—a slow process working out with God."

"There are no short cuts to the kingdom of God. The world is in desperate need and man must do his part; but he must not become weary with his efforts as results would come. Workers together with God can not afford to be impatient."

Here in our country faced with depression, the people should seek God's way and do those things that he wants. God is near and there is something to do and we must do it faithfully. Walk humbly in the service of Jesus Christ."

"DROPPING THE PILOT"

The student of current events will recall the cartoon of London "Punch" when the young German Kaiser, in the exuberance of his new power, dismissed Bismarck from his position as Imperial Chancellor. The Kaiser is standing at the rail of the good ship Germany, while Bismarck, pictured as the pilot, is being lowered down from the boat. That was a sad day for Germany; it was a tragic day for the young Kaiser, for the dismissal of Bismarck meant the road to downfall for him.

Little notice has been given to the retirement of Briand from the government of France with which he has been connected as premier or foreign minister for a score or more of years. He was France's elder statesman, respected and honored by leading minds in and outside of his country. He has been behind every scheme and plan to lift Europe out of its misery and chaos. It was he who brought Germany into the League of Nations and made possible the agreement at Locarno, which is the one outstanding constructive agreement made since the war. He was really the author of the Kellogg Peace Pact. His influence has been thrown on the side of disarmament, and on the side of every movement tending to liquidate the hate and confusion of the war.

His retirement was undoubtedly forced by the parties of the Centre and the Right, which at present are standing behind Premier Laval. It was the influence of these parties that forced the invasion of the Ruhr in 1923, which turned out to be so futile and so disastrous for France. It is the influence of these narrow nationalistic forces in the Chamber of Deputies today which is stalling the machinery, and which under the influence of Briand was lifting Europe gradually out of the doldrums.

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Deputies, when Premier Laval was asking an endorsement of his policies, the parties of the Left were shouting out the name of Briand whenever the parties of the Right and Centre were applauding the premier. It was only by a majority of somewhat less than 40 votes that the government received its endorsement out of a total of more than 600 votes. The French elections occur in the spring, and it will be of supreme significance to France, as well as to Europe, if the results of that election permanently eliminate Briand from the future councils of the Republic. For the sake of France itself, and for the world at large, it is to be hoped that the constructive and the pacific policies of Briand will win the approval of the French electorate.

All world powers, except the United States, are invited to a European debt parity. Evidently don't want America to parley too.

WITH ALICE INTO THE RABBIT HOLE
AND LOOKING GLASS HOUSE

It is to be hoped that many who in days past read "Alice in Wonderland," and many who have never read it, will be induced on this occasion of the centenary of the birth of Lewis Carroll to enter the rabbit hole and Looking Glass House and see the wonders that little Alice saw. Alice still lives, an aged lady, to whom the stories were first told; and how many there are who have found delight through the years in reading this fanciful nonsense.

Words cannot express what this work of childish nonsense has done for the children of the world. Its delightful inconsistencies and impossibilities, so adroit and naive, have their appeal even to the older mind. Wonder is one of the great attributes of the human spirit; and the hunger for it does not diminish with the passing of childhood. And here in these stories is the acme of wonder. Such strange creatures, and their strange talk; such fanciful sights, and their appeal to the imagination; they never pall on the mind not bereft of imagination.

We are living in a world of hard facts. Fixed and immutable laws meet us everywhere. Yet withal that, the world is not without romance, without laughter, without strange and incomprehensible things. And the writer who can do for childhood, and for age too for that matter, what Lewis Carroll has done, deserves to live forever in that world of fancy, whose forms and actions are as real to the child mind, as the digging of potatoes, the tending of sheep, and the making of cloth and shoes.

We can commend no task that will recall early hours of joy, or awaken joys entirely new, such as the reading of "Alice in Wonderland." It will do all of us good to live for a brief period in this world of delightful fancy once more, or anew.

FRANKLIN PIERCE, PRESIDENT BY ACCIDENT

We notice a life of President Franklin Pierce has just been published. This is entirely a work of superfluity. Franklin Pierce was perhaps one of the most, if not the most, innocuous personalities that ever filled the presidential chair. It would have been nothing short of a calamity had he been at the head of the government in a period of crisis. As it was, the country rent with the slavery question, and things drifting rapidly toward the catastrophe which broke out in '61, times were serious enough. During his administration, as well as during the administration of his vacillating successor, Buchanan, the South became more firmly seated. It may be only conjecture, but there are discerning historians who believe that if we had had two strong men in the presidency, or one strong man for two terms, during the years of the administration of Pierce and Buchanan, the course of our national history might have been totally different.

It is one of the accepted historical facts that the country, as a rule, does not choose its strongest men to head the government. A strong man, a man who cannot be easily handled, is not desired by the political machines. If we do get such a strong man, it is largely because the people, rather than the politicians, make the choice. Some of our strongest presidents were accidents. The rip in the Democratic party made Lincoln president. The death of McKinley made Roosevelt president. The rip in the Republican party made Wilson president. And Grover Cleveland, one of our other strong presidents, just got there the first time by a fluke speech the Sunday before election.

We have no malice toward the memory of Franklin Pierce. No man is to be blamed if he fails of greatness. But the circumstances which lifted him to the highest office in the nation does not necessarily raise him to the ranks of the immortals. It would have been just as well to let the memory of Franklin Pierce drop out of the nation's history.

Washington Letter
Experts See Rise of Progressive Group Among Democrats, But
No Alignment With Republican Progressives Is ExpectedBy RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—This Congress already promises a rise of Democratic progressivism as a national political factor, if not of Democratic insurgency.

When you start counting heads in the closely divided House and the closely divided Senate, you find a small but important group of Democrats who are just as liberal—or radical, if you must—as the group of insurgent Republicans who made such a mockery of Republican control in the Senate during the last session.

In the House this little group theoretically even holds a balance of power. It will hold such a balance in the Senate any time that the Democrats obtain a majority there. Such balances of power would hardly be used, however, inasmuch as no one could imagine these members in any coalition with Republicans—first, because they are progressives; second, because they are Democrats.

There is no other way for them to go and the progressive Democrats thus far show a tendency to co-operate with the Democratic leadership, especially in the House. Democratic insurgency, although it might develop against Speaker Jack Garner if his policies appeared too conservative, is most likely to appear against Floor Leader Joe Robinson in the Senate, who is accused of having gone ultra-conservative on questions of economics and taxation.

The progressives of both parties usually play together, but it seems in this session as if the cleavage between them and the rank and file of Democrats in Congress is far narrower than that which has always existed between Republican insurgents and the administration supporters. They seem to agree, in the main, on methods of taxation, primarily directed at great wealth. And on several of the major issues it appears that any general conservative-progressive division will find the progressive position supported by a large group of Democrats—and sometimes of Republicans—who are no insurgents.

Meanwhile, it is predicted that any party program in either house must have the support of the progressives if it is to be successful. Last session the Democratic progressives in the Senate were Wheeler of Montana and Dill of Washington. Also, to a considerable extent, Walsh of Montana and Wagner of New York.

This year there is in addition Costigan of Colorado, a fighting progressive of whom much is expected. There is also Huey Long of Louisiana, who admires "Borah, Norris, LaFollette and those fellows."

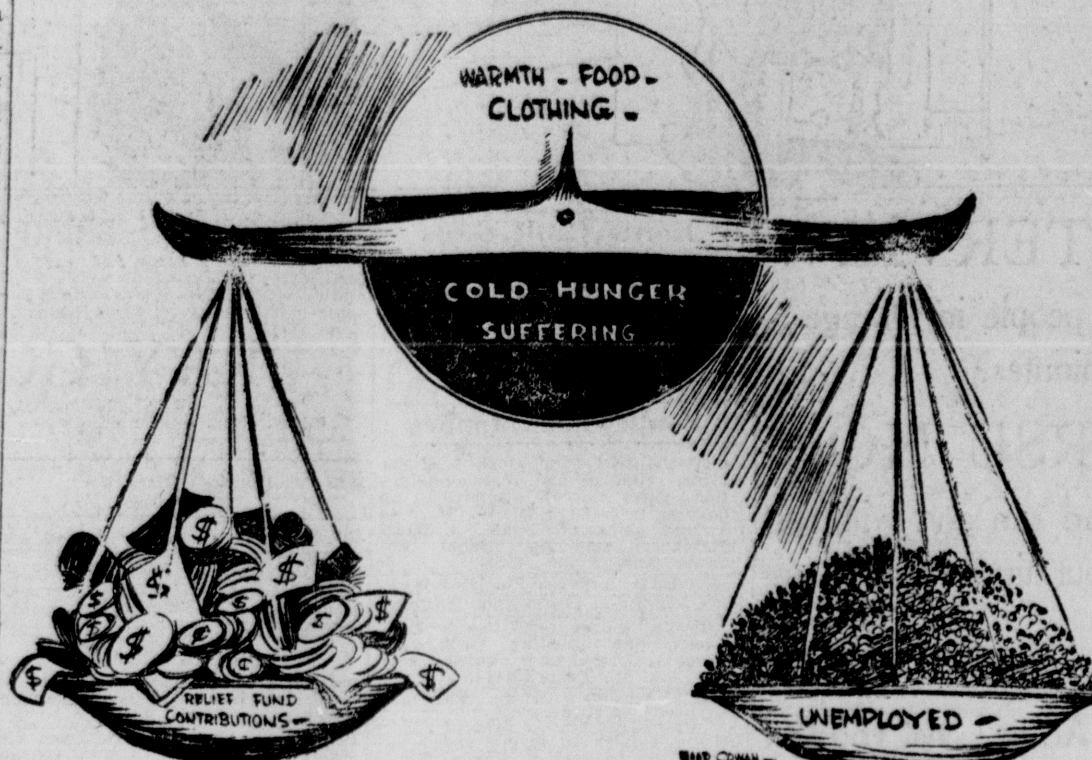

Such men as these will revolt against any attempt by Leader Robinson to co-operate on conservative measures with the administration. And there are a dozen other Democratic senators with progressive leanings.

The House majority floor leader is Rainey of Illinois, who says he stands for everything that Senator Norris of Nebraska, the most progressive of progressives, stands for. The progressive flavor runs strong among many other House Democrats, but at least a couple of them who seem to be as progressive as anyone else, are Huddleston of Alabama and Howell of Nebraska.

Of course there are Democrats in both branches of the Robinson type who are as conservative as any Republican and it is no soft job to devise a program which will permit a united Democratic front. Nevertheless that has been the task before Speaker Jack Garner, upon whom so much attention has been focused.

Garner's progressives haven't yet proved a thorn in his side. He and Rainey seem to understand each other. And others among them appear to believe that worthwhile progressive objectives can be achieved under his leadership.

THE WISE WAY

Whenever I've been just a little bit slow
In paying the grocer the money I owe
He writes me letters, he writes me notes,
And a couple of hours a week devotes
With expert skill to collecting that bill
That so briefly has been delayed.

His boy comes around with a threat to sue
And sneers when I promise an I O U
And he carries on till my nerve is gone
And the bill is finally paid.

Whenever a nation has run in debt
There is never a dun and never a threat,
But its people cry with an injured air,
"We haven't a penny of money to spare;
And you will have to wait till a later date
When we happen to have the cash.

If you ask us to pay you the money now
We'll all bust up in a general row
And you can't expect that you'll ever collect
When the country has gone to smash."

LAST MINUTE MEN

An army officer of my acquaintance was talking about some of the troops that served under him in the great war.

"They had minute men in the Revolution," he said, "but these boys, through no fault of their own, were 'last minute men.'"

"Their training was hurried, and naturally they were unable to learn the many things needed for a soldier to know, not only to keep himself fit, but to protect himself and be effective when facing the enemy. They were a different sort when they came out of the war—most of them—but many needlessly lost their lives because they had not been time to train them properly."

"Last minute men" are far more numerous in the great peace army than they ever are in a national military force.

They begin their great battle with an utter lack of training, and that which they can pick up as they go, though sometimes good, is never what it ought to be.

In some cases this is their own fault. In some, it is the fault of parents or teachers.

The man who thinks his boy will be able to fight his way in competition with trained minds, and without that kind of mind of his own, is treating the boy unjustly.

Today there are so many opportunities for education that there is no excuse for ignorance.

It is true that some boys have the will power and the foresight to get their own educations, and that some of these have risen to the highest places.

But they are exceptions.

Those who have brought children into the world owe them educations, training and the right kind of upbringing.

To deny them these things is exactly like denying men who must go under fire the training they need, and the arms and ammunition they require.

With the spread of education has come a corresponding spread of intelligence.

Incidentally, as the world grows in population, there will be more able men and women in it, and the keener will become the competition.

On the other hand, there will be more important places to fill, more important work to do, and opportunities will be increased for those who have been prepared to seize and take advantage of them.

If you have children, you are unfit for parenthood if you do not give them the best possible training.

And if you are young and have no parents to help you, it is your business to help yourself to an education.

You can do it far more easily today than your forefathers did, and some of the greatest of them managed it without any trouble that was too great to overcome.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE MAJORITY

Long ago, when the American political venture was young, Alexis de Tocqueville, in his now classic "Democracy in America," forecast a time when we Americans would fall victim to the tyranny of the majority.

He proved himself a prophet with prevision.

Down under the simmering surface of American politics lies the major issue of the attitude of the majority towards leaders and the attitude of leaders toward the majority.

Majority rule is a superb device for settling contests of strength. Counting heads is better than breaking heads.

Balloting is better than battling. But a sinister tyranny is always coiled at the heart of a majority.

The majority insists that its opinion is only a part of public opinion, and not always the best part.

Majority opinion tends to grow more and more inquisitorial.

Not content to restrict its operation to its valid function of settling contests, the majority noses ineptly into the intricate processes of legislation and administration, threatening with expulsion from office the legislator or administrator who dares dispute its transient whims.

Through derision and ostracism the majority seeks to terrorize into submission the man who is unwilling to be but an echo of the crowd.

As far as I can find the majority has never taken an advance step on its own initiative, but only when provided into progress by a minority.

The voice of the people cannot be the voice of God save when the people are Godlike.

There is no special magic in the ballotbox that can transform a million separate bad judgments into a single good judgment.

We do not want a dictator; we do not want to renounce majority rule as an election device; but two things we do need desperately. They are:

(1) Leaders indifferent enough to their own re-election to enable them to differ from the majority when necessary.

(2) A greater willingness on the part of the majority to let leaders lead instead of demanding that they always follow.

FATHER'S SHARE

We don't enjoy the children enough. We become so absorbed in their training and education that we lose all the joy. Very soon the children vanish and in their places appear strangers, young people with whom we have to try to become acquainted.

Infancy and childhood are the times for knowing and enjoying the children. Then we can make friends with them. We can learn to know us and we can bid for their love and understanding.

Mothers have more chance to do this than fathers have. The children are asleep in the morning or father is so hurried he has no time to be with them before leaving for work.

They are ready for bed in the evening and again there is little time for father to enjoy his children.

Anything that is worth having is worth making an effort to gain and the children's affections are well worth striving for even in the face of time tables and conferences and clocks.

We need the children and they need us, especially do they need to know and understand their fathers. And fathers need to get close to their children.

Father is a giant among men to his children. All you have to do to prove that is to listen to a group of children on their way to or from school. "My father can run a car better than your father can."

"Aw, gwan, he cannot. I betcha my father can race faster than anybody. He can even beat me."

"Pooh. You ought to see my father what he can do. He can life me in one hand just as steady as anything, he can."

"So can my father and he knows the best places for camping. Once we went to a lake in the mountains and Gee, you ought to see him make a camp and build a fire and cook an' everything. He's the best."

"Aw, you think your father's something great. Can he fly an airplane? I betcha he can't. But mine can."

Feeling a father behind you gives you courage to do anything even if it's as hard as climbing the electric pole, or learning the

"You're a great boy," said I to a little chap who had done a fine bit of work under trying conditions.

"You don't know my father," said he, eyes shining. "I'd do anything to please him, he's so good and so smart. I just have to make good. You know something? He even talks to me. You know, just as if I was a regular man like him. Some father I've got, believe me. And I did."
